Arrive in England on Warship and Are Taken by Train to Capital Where Throngs Await Them.

TO LIE IN STATE IN WESTMINSTER HALL

On Friday Memorial Service Will Be Held at St. Paul's With Burial Saturday in Common Grave.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Bodies of the 47 victims of the destruction of the dirigible R-101 lay today covered with flags and flowers in the state funeral chapel, awaiting final honors before burial in a common grave.

It was not until 3:30 a. m. that the last of the coffins were placed side by side in the chapel after a trip from Victoria station, where Prime Minister MacDonald, members of the Government, military representatives, and a great throng of spectators met them as they arrived from Dover.

The bodies were transferred at Dover from the warship Tempest, which with the Tribune had brought them from Boulogne-Sur-Mer, where they had been taken by special train from Beauvais, France. Near the latter city the R-101 crashed and burned. The Tribune went aground outside Boulogne harbor and the bodies aboard it had to be transferred to the Tempest.

Lying-in-State Friday.

The public will not be admitted to view the bodies of the victims of the dirigible disaster until Friday, when they will lie in state in Westminster Hall, part of the old palace of Westminster which now is used to house Parliament.

A memorial service will be held Friday at St. Paul's Cathedral, with the Prince of Wales representing King George, and members of the Government present. The diplomatic corps will pay final tribute to the victims here.

Burial in Common Grave.

Burial will be in a single grave, to be marked with an appropriate monument, probably at Cardington, Saturday. As some of the victims were Catholic it has been suggested that Catholic funeral rites be solemnized at Cardington also Friday morning.

It was in Westminster Hall, built in 1097 by King William II and rebuilt and enlarged by Edward I, by Richard II, that the body of Edward VII lay in state in 1910. Among others to whom a similar honor has been accorded in modern times was Gladstone, the Victorian statesman.

The hall was also the scene of the trial and the condemnation to death of King Charles I.

The hall is not to be confused with Westminster Abbey.

Federals Recapture Palmyra, Advance on Barbacena.

By the Associated Press.

SAO PAULO, Brazil, Oct. 8.—Federal troops have recaptured the city of Palmyra, in the State of Minas Geraes, and were advancing on Barbacena today with the expectation of occupying that place shortly.

The authorities here reported that the situation today was favorable and that progress favoring the Federal Government was being made in Minas Geraes. Many volunteer battalions are being formed, trained and equipped in support of the Federal Government. It was stated that important developments in the South were expected soon.

Warship Sent to Pernambuco With Army Reinforcements.

By the Associated Press.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 8.—The Federal Government today dispatched a warship to Pernambuco with army reinforcements under a new commander in an effort to strike a blow at the rebellion in that quarter. Reinforcements also were sent to Florianopolis and a general plan of strategy was worked out for a heavy assault on the rebels in Rio Grande do Sul.

Heavy concentration of troops in Santa Catarina also indicated that the Government was concentrating much of its energy upon the situation in the extreme southern tip of the country, which is the stronghold of the revolution.

Bombing planes continued their assault upon Minas Geraes and it was reported that the Capitol building at Belo Horizonte had been hit. Food and other supplies are reaching Rio de Janeiro regularly.

Rival Claimants Made to Accept $888,105 for Their Share of the Block.

Rival claimants to two-thirds of the block selected as the site for the new $3,500,000 Federal building, facing Memorial Plaza, have reached an agreement to sell the ground to the Government at the price agreed on two years ago, $888,105 for their part of the block. The price fixed recently by Federal Court viewers for the entire block, including the one-third not owned by the Peper-Bushman Barlow claimants, is $1,065,395.

The block is bounded by Twelfth, Market, Eleventh and Walnut streets. The more valuable part of the block, including the Twelfth-Market corner, is in the Peper holdings.

H. H. Haeussler and C. J. Macaulay, attorneys for Mrs. Estelle Peper-Bushman Barlow, today announced that all the Peper heirs, and Oron E. Scott, who claims title to a part of the land, had signed a deed which will make it possible for the Government to take title on placing the money in escrow, leaving the distribution of the amount to wait on litigation now pending. If the Government accepts the proposal, condemnation proceedings will be unnecessary for this part of the ground.

The price named, $888,105 for the Peper ground, was fixed at a conference of Government officials, Mrs. Barlow and Scott, two years ago. The claimants' agreement says that the sale is to be for the amount named "or other price to be agreed on by the parties."

NIGHT OF DISORDER FOLLOWING LEGION PARADE IN BOSTON

Ruffians Overturn Autos, Set Scores of Bonfires Downtown—Several Hundred Slightly Hurt.

U. S. DRY AGENTS ATTACKED BY MOB

Rescued by Police After Arresting Four Liquor Peddlers—Hotel Entrances Closely Guarded.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 8.—City and American Legion police controlled the downtown streets today after a night of disorder by mobs of hoodlums.

Overturned automobiles, the ashes of a score of bonfires that had been built in downtown thoroughfares and on Boston common, and here and there an injured head marked the passing of the rowdies, who took advantage of the privileges extended the Legionnaires after the annual parade in connection with the national convention.

At one time it seemed that the melee in Park Square might reach the proportion of a riot. Dennis J. Lorden, heading a detail of Federal agents, had arrested four men for peddling liquor in the square. As he started marching, his men away, a crowd, composed mostly of rowdies, 14 to 20 years old, moved on him.

Police Rescue Agents.

Fists began to fly and a squad of police forced its way through the crowd to rescue the agents. Legion police held a lane open while the agents and their prisoners were taken to the comparative safety of a nearby street.

Those four were the only arrests during the sporadic outbreaks that marked the post-parade celebration. Police who attempted to round up the detached mobs of hoodlums were hindered by the crowds that milled through the streets all night.

The best the authorities could do was guard the packed wooden grandstands along the parade route from flames that spread from bonfires on the street and the common. Hotel entrances were guarded by officers, who refused admittance to any but Legionnaires and guests.

Confetti, ticker tape and crates and boxes that had been used as seats by parade spectators were excellent fuel. At Stuart and Tremont streets a decrepit automobile caught fire. One of its 10 occupants was rescued by pedestrians. One's trousers were burned.

Boxes Thrown at Autos.

Those boxes and crates that were not burned and tin cans that would not burn were hurled at passing automobiles. Tops of the machines were dented and torn and one or two cases crushed. Automobiles were seized and bounced until the springs gave way. Now and then an automobile was overturned. A few missiles were thrown from hotel windows.

Always it seemed the hoodlums were behind the boisterousness. The Legionnaires were having a good time, but confined his celebration to a parade, a quartet or an impromptu song and dance.

Veterans took matters into their own hands several times when ruffians handed over their uniforms to the pretenders were quickly divested of their uniforms and sent on their way.

Several hundred persons were treated for minor injuries. None of the injuries was serious. Detroit, Mich., was selected today by the American Legion convention as the convention city next year.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Oct. 8.

WE OUGHT to get some light on how to conduct our public affairs by observing how we manage our private affairs. When times are good and money is plenty we are willing to make liberal commitments. We take chances even to the extent of reckless extravagance. But at such times we want a conservative government. We disapprove of any proposed radical action.

But when some depression in business comes we begin to be very conservative in our financial affairs. We save our money and take no chances in its investment. Yet in our political actions we go in the opposite direction. We begin to support radical measures and cast our votes for those who advance the most reckless proposals.

This is a curious and entirely illogical reaction. When times are good we might afford to take a chance on radical government. But when we are financially weakened we need the soundest and wisest of men and measures.

The coming election is no time for rash experiments. The best we can get will be none too good. It is a time to use the same care in our politics that we use in our finances.

U. S. TO CONSIDER EXPORT OF HELIUM GAS FOR AIRSHIPS

be the principal beneficiary in this country, although Chairman Britten said that he would favor the sale of Government helium to other countries on the basis of cost plus overhead. If his committee found that this country had more than it could use in the near future.

The Kentucky Company, subsidiary of the Kentucky Oxygen Company, was put out of active business last winter when Representative Burton French (Rep.), Idaho, chairman of the Naval Subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee, served notice on the Navy that it should not pay for the Kentucky company's $24 a 1000 cubic feet of helium when the gas could be bought from the Bureau of Mines for less than half that price. Since then the bureau has reduced its price to $6.25 a 1000 cubic feet.

French later wrote into the Navy Appropriations bill that the Navy should not buy helium from an outside firm at a higher price than that charged by the Bureau of Mines. This effectively stopped the sales of the Kentucky company.

Conserving U. S. Supply.

Bureau of Mines officials said today that they were not concerned with the present move to permit the export of helium. They pointed out that this was a matter of policy to be decided by Congress and the Army and Navy as a part of the national defense. Their position was that they were administering the present law in conserving the supply of helium and selling it at cost to another Government department. If the law is changed, it will be the duty of the bureau to follow the changes, they said.

These officials, after pointing out that no supply of a mineral could be "exhaustible" or "unlimited," as claimed by some who favored the exportation of helium, said that a supply for 100 years at the present rate of consumption would be fairly accurate. They predicted this forecast on a possible use of 100,000 cubic feet a year for the Los Angeles, the two 6,500,000 cubic feet airships authorized by Congress, and a number of smaller craft.

If the Government permits exportations, the officials declared, there should be a strict watch to prevent storage by foreign governments for use in war. This, they said, would be simple, as the wastage of the gas is about 100 per cent a year when used in aircraft. By checking the exportations and watching the use made of the gas, this Government could determine in a short time whether any was being stored for future use.

Cost of Transportation.

One objection to be overcome, they emphasized, would be the cost of transportation. At present the navy has a costly tank car with a capacity of 250,000 cubic feet for transportation of the gas from Amarillo to Akron, O., and Lakehurst, N. J. The cost of transportation in ships would be almost prohibitive, officials said. A solution of this problem would be to fly the airships with hydrogen for a return trip with helium.

Representatives of the Kentucky Helium Co. were in Washington last week, but have returned to Louisville. Admiral Moffett and Chairman Britten denied that they had conferred with these men.

In denying the application of the Kentucky company for permission to export 12,000,000 cubic feet of helium in 1932-1933, the Secretary of Commerce declared that, since the application was for a blanket export permit, it could not be granted. The Secretary pointed out that the Government would have to be informed on the exact nature of all exports.

AUSTRALIANS TOUR ST. LOUIS

Fifteen Australian men and women, members of the Christian Church, who stopped here yesterday on their way to the international convention of the denomination at Washington, were guests of the Christian Board of Publication on a sightseeing tour of the city.

Among the members of the party were T. E. Rofe, Australian philanthropist and a councillor of Wahroonga, a suburb of Sydney; W. A. C. Wendorf, Brisbane, and Senator William Morrow, Adelaide. Discussing the financial condition of Australia at a luncheon at Union Avenue Christian Church yesterday, Rofe said a "serious" depression existed. Both wool and wheat production have fallen off greatly in the last year, he said, and banks are able to continue operation only by skillful planning.

LABOR LEADER ASSAILS DECISION BY COURT

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—The American Federation of Labor began the first real business session of its national convention today with an attack by John P. Frey, secretary of the metal trades department, upon the Massachusetts Supreme Court for its ruling upon recent "yellow dog contract" legislation.

Denouncing the opinion of the Supreme Court last April that proposed legislation against "yellow dog" contracts was unconstitutional, Frey declared the Massachusetts court, by upholding certain injunctions in labor disputes, has shown that it "does not believe the wage earner is entitled to the same privileges as the man in business."

Frey criticized the provisions of the Massachusetts Constitution which permitted what he termed interference by the judiciary with legislation and declared such a condition was reminiscent of the dark ages, and destructive to free institutions.

A slight disturbance occurred at the entrance to the convention hall while Hanford MacNider, United States Minister to Canada, and Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley were delivering brief addresses on the so-called red menace, when 15 members of a group of 50 radicals that had gathered outside sought admittance.

The men were recognized as communists by Sergeant-at-Arms Edward F. Carr and were requested to leave. They protested to enter, but when Carr appealed to police the group departed.

Amendment of the Federal patent laws to provide a weapon of defense for the working man against the hardships of unemployment was a plan submitted to the convention today for its indorsement.

The plan was contained in a resolution presented by Andrew Furuseth of the International Seamen's Union of America, a veteran of the labor group.

Furuseth would have the user of the patented machine who replaced human labor reimburse the displaced employee for at least a portion of their loss. He thought the patent laws could be amended to provide for such a procedure.

Contained in his resolution was the statement that the "patent laws of a pseudo individualistic age are not applicable in an age of corporate nations who fall to accept new social outlook, duties and responsibilities."

Change in the Federation's attitude toward prohibition was asked in resolutions favoring repeal of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act. It now favors modification of the Volstead act so as to permit the use of beer of 2.75 per cent alcoholic content by weight.

The United States Senate would be asked by the Federation to order the building of the full amount of cruisers, aircraft carriers and submarines permitted under the London naval treaty if a resolution submitted by John Barry of the New Hampshire State Federation was adopted.

The American Federation of Musicians and the Associated Actors and Artists of America asked for the Federation's support in its endeavors to halt the trend toward the mechanizing of the musical art. The two organizations declared in a resolution that they "deplored the purely commercial motives that were undermining the foundations of our cultural structure."

THREE KILLED WHEN PLANE HITS MOUNTAIN

Pilot Tries to Guide Machine Through Canyon, But It Turns.

By the Associated Press.
BRYAN CITY, N. C., Oct. 8.—Two youths on their first flight and a veteran pilot are dead because a barnstorming airplane crashed into a mountain peak.

Vernon Sherill, 20 years old, of Bryson City, was killed when the plane crashed into a mountain side and burst into flames. The bodies were burned beyond recognition before scores of persons who saw the tragedy could reach the mountain.

The youths, on a lark at the fall left the Cherokee Indian reservation in the plane for a flight of 800 feet. Zeln, attempting to pilot the machine through a gap in the mountains. Persons watching the flight said it appeared to make a slight turn to the left, sidestep to the right and crashed into the side of a hill. The plane fell to ground covered with scrub pine and caught fire.

Zeln, with 1000 hours' flying time to his credit, held a Department of Commerce license. The plane was owned by S. B. Lyons, the Lyons Airways, Augusta, Ga.

WANTS EDUCATIONAL FEATURE
BROADCAST ON SHORT WAVE

Senator Dill Says Power Cords Have Offered to Pay Expenses of Program.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 8.—Senator C. C. Dill urged the Federal Radio Commission yesterday to permit broadcasting of educational programs on short waves so that stations could pick them up for broadcasting on a noncommercial basis.

Senator Dill, who has sponsored much radio legislation, said Power Cords, owner of station WLV, Cincinnati, O., had offered to pay expenses of the program if it could be rebroadcast on short waves without advertising.

The Radio Commission heretofore has refused permission for short wave broadcasting except for inter-oceanic programs, on the theory there were not enough short waves to justify placing them on a commercial basis.

"I have acted entirely on my own initiative in urging the commission to recognize Mr. Crosey's proposal," the Senator said. "I know of no higher public interest in which radio can be put."

TWO DETECTIVES
IN BAR UNAWARE
OF $1700 HOLDUP

Officers McGranahan and O'Rourke Seeking Suspects While W. H. Scheer Was Being Robbed.

EXPLANATION BY CAPT. DINEEN

Trio Who Held Up Saloon and Pool Room at 3900 Park Av. Had Been in Game There.

Two city detectives were in the pool room and saloon of William H. Scheer, 3900 Park avenue, yesterday morning, while three men were robbing the proprietor and several customers of $1719, and were unaware the holdup was in progress. It was learned today.

Accompanied by Leslie Scheer, son of the proprietor, the detectives entered to search for three suspicious characters reported to have been loitering in the neighborhood. The saloon and pool room both were empty and Scheer told them, "There's nobody here. I guess it's too early. I just arrived a minute ago myself." The detectives departed, continuing their neighborhood search for the suspicious characters.

Holdup in Side Office.
In the meantime, the elder Scheer, his brother, a clerk and four customers were being held in a side office by three armed men.

Detectives McGranahan and O'Rourke reported to the window of the four customers, got $1719. They fled after tearing the telephone off the wall.

Detectives McGranahan and O'Rourke, in the meantime, visited the office of the Public Service Co. Informed no suspicious characters had been seen there, they telephoned to the Magnolia Avenue Police Station for further instructions and were informed of the holdup across the street.

Capt. Dineen's Explanation.
Police Capt. Dineen, of the Magnolia station, who made an investigation, said there was no way the detectives would have known the holdup was in progress. They were sent to the neighborhood, he said, in response to a telephone call from a man who identified himself as "a merchant at Thirty-ninth and Fulton," which is two blocks from the scene of the holdup.

The merchant complained about suspicious characters in front of his store, Dineen said, and the detectives went there first. Dineen said he was convinced the men about whom the complaint was telephoned did not hold up the pool room, as the pool room robbers were in the place playing a game of pool at the time before the robbery.

WAGNER ELECTRIC AWARDED
$55,431 IN INCOME TAX SUIT

Judge Paris Orders Judgment Involving Refund Due to Loss to Corporation.

A judgment for $55,431.10 in favor of the Wagner Electric Corporation in an income tax suit, was handed down by Federal Judge Paris today. The amount represents a refund principal of $45,184.12 with 6 per cent interest on a special computation basis.

The suit arose out of a $175,866 loss by the corporation in installing machinery to manufacture night-vision shells for the Government during the World War, at the time of the suspension of munitions manufacturing on Jan. 31, 1919. At the time the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue held that loss sustained on the machinery might be deducted from the income tax of the company.

Deductions on that basis were made from the taxes of 1913 and 1919, the larger amount being taken from the tax of the first year. On the contention of the Internal Revenue Bureau that the loss could be placed against the tax of only one year, the company paid its full tax for 1919 under protest and filed suit to regain the principal amount of the judgment. The commission for division of the loss was upheld by the Court today.

SENATOR JONES HELPS CATCH
ROBBERS AFTER BANK HOLDUP

Blocks Road With His Auto as Pursuers Chase Flee; One Is Wounded.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Senator Wesley L. Jones, author of the "five and ten" prohibition law, yesterday aided in the capture of bank robbers, when their automobile was blocked as it met his on a one-way road, to the Jones ranch.

Driving to the Chicago Mines and Merchants Bank in a stolen taxicab yesterday, Henry Rule, 21 years old, Campden, Alta., and Audrey Robins, 17, Columbia, S. C., took $1800 and fled in the cab after the bank president and cashier had refused to obey orders to enter the bank vault.

In their haste the robbers chose the Jones ranch road to find their escape blocked by the Senator's car. Bob Kerschman and Paul Younger, Chicago, were pursuing the robbers, who then had no choice but to take to foot. While Senator Jones watched, Kerschman and Younger drove up and set out after the fleeing robbers. Kerschman firing as they headed into brush. Rule dropped to the ground wounded. Both surrendered.

ASSAULTS RADIO COMMISSION
FOR LIMITING STATIONS' POWER

O. H. Caldwell, Former Member, Testifies Applications for 50,000 Watts.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—O. H. Caldwell, a former member, told the Radio Commission today its policy of limiting power of cleared channel broadcasting stations was "indefensible."

He was testifying in the hearings on applications from some stations in the Central and North-west States to increase their power to 50,000 watts. The stations are WCFM, Chicago; WIO, Des Moines, jointly with WOC, Davenport, Ia.; WCOO, Minneapolis, Minn., and WMAQ, Chicago. He has before it applications also by WBBM, Chicago; KFAB, Lincoln, Neb.; WTMJ, Milwaukee, Wis., and WGN, Chicago. Only four 50,000-watt permits may be granted under a recent commission policy.

Caldwell contended high-power broadcasting should be "demanded, not limited." He said the restrictive policy deprived those who lived on farms and in small towns of the satisfactory reception to which they were entitled.

Detectives Investigate After Proprietor Accuses the Painters' Union.

Detectives reported to Chief Kaiser today that they had been unable to fix responsibility for the breaking of 11 windows at the Stanley Hat & Dress Co., 3400 South Jefferson avenue, Sept. 27, although the proprietor, Henry Greenstone, blamed the Painters' Union. The damage was $300.

Greenstone complained, the officers said, that a picket patrolled the front of his store from Sept. 5 to 29 after he refused a demand that the interior of the store be painted by union men and did the work himself. Representatives of the union denied knowledge of the window breaking, pointing out that the picket was removed a week before after being assaulted by an unidentified man.

BY AUTO, DIES IN HOSPITAL

Martin Brinkhoff, 48, Run Down on Highway, Succumbs to Skull Fracture.

Martin Brinkhoff, 48 years old, of Mascoutah, Ill., died today at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Belleville, from skull fracture suffered about 9 p. m. yesterday when he was struck by an automobile while walking on the highway about three miles east of Mascoutah.

Earl B. Conroy Pittsfield, Ill., told authorities he was driving east on Route No. 15, and struck Brinkhoff when blinding headlights of another machine caused him to swerve toward the side of the road.

MURDERED WOMAN
IDENTIFIED AS BRIDE

Search Renewed for Cleveland Man Whom She Married in June.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—The woman's body found near the Lac du Flambeau (Wis.) Indian reservation last week has been identified as that of the missing Chicago bride, Mrs. Cora Belle Hackett.

A Milwaukee dentist made the identification last night through fillings in the teeth. At the same time it was determined definitely that the woman had been slain. A bullet had been fired into the back of the head. Pathologists said it would have been impossible for her to have fired the shot herself.

Identification of the body and discovery of the evidence that she had been murdered led today to intensification of the search for George W. E. Perry of Cleveland, O., to whom she was married June 16 last. Perry, who already was married, disappeared a month ago after turning over to his wife in Cleveland bags of clothing which police think belonged to Mrs. Hackett.

Announcement that a bullet had been found in the skull of the body found in Wisconsin came as a surprise to Chicago police, who have been hunting Perry. It had been understood that the woman had been strangled.

Mrs. Hackett became acquainted with Perry through an advertisement. They were last heard from late in June honeymooning in the Lac du Flambeau region.

DRIVER INDICTED ON CHARGE OF LEAVING ACCIDENT SCENE

Witnesses at Inquest Say Auto Struck Woman, Throwing Her in Front of Another Machine.

An indictment charging he left the scene of an accident after striking and fatally injuring a woman pedestrian Sept. 7, last, was voted by the grand jury yesterday against John Ehret, a painter, 2519 South Seventh street.

According to witnesses at a Coroner's inquest, Ehret's automobile struck Mrs. Ola Boyer, an expectant mother, 629 South Broadway, as she was crossing Broadway at Poplar street with her 20-month-old son, Clifford, in her arms. Mrs. Boyer was thrown into the path of another machine, the driver of which stopped.

A policeman who witnessed the accident commanded a passing automobile and arrested Ehret some distance away. The other driver was exonerated at the inquest and Ehret was ordered held for the grand jury. The baby suffered fractures of the skull and right leg.

Records here show that Perry and his first wife were married Jan. 22, 1912, by Oscar Schwemmer, a Justice of the Peace. Police records show that Perry had been arrested many times for participating in brawls.

BIDS FOR PAVING IN COUNTY
26 PCT. LESS THAN ESTIMATE

Nine Miles of Work Includes Improvements on Marshall and Ballas Roads.

Bids for the paving of nine miles of county roads, opened by the St. Louis County Court today, were 26 per cent less than the estimate of $495,465.75 made by County Highway Commissioner Roy Jablonsky. The bids, covering nine proposals, amounted to $367,948.

The principal proposals are the paving of Marshall road, from Big Bend boulevard to Seventh street, Valley Park, a distance of 15,605 feet, and Ballas road, from Manchester road to Dougherty Ferry road, 7286 feet. Marshall road, connecting with Big Ben boulevard, will provide a paved highway from St. Louis to Valley Park. The low bid of $153,612.50 was submitted by Keeley Brothers Construction Co. The low bid for the Ballas road paving, submitted by the Steuby Construction Co., was $86,070.

V. P. QUEEN'S ORCHID BOUQUET TO BE PUT ON SHOW TOMORROW

Nine Countries Provide the 190 Rare Blossoms of Which It Is Composed.

The bouquet carried by the Queen at tonight's Velled Prophet's ball—unsurpassed, so far as known here, by any bouquet ever gathered anywhere in the world—will be displayed from 9 to 5 p. m. tomorrow in the Floral Display House at Shaw's Garden.

Nine countries provided the 190 rarities which make up the bouquet. The plants were imported and brought to parent perfection in the specially designed orchid houses of the Shaw's Garden 1600-acre extension at Gray Summit, where experts say they seem to thrive as well as in tropical gardens.

Most of the flowers are from plants brought to St. Louis a year ago from Shaw's Garden Tropical Station at Balboa, Canal Zone. They are the cattleya labiata, beautiful and fragrant, an even mauve with a deep mauve lip. Others include remarkable inella-cattleya hybrids, one a clear primrose yellow with a purple lip.

Spray orchids, which somewhat more than serve the purpose of fillies of the valley in the design, are from Australia and the Philippines. The fern is not the ordinary maidenhair, but the farlysenne fern, larger, finer, richer in color and harder to grow.

RAY WOODS PLANS DIVE FROM CHAIN OF ROCKS BRIDGE

Physical Instructor Says It's Only One Over Mississippi He Hasn't Jumped From.

Ray Woods, physical instructor, of 5116 Waterman avenue, will dive from the Chain of Rocks bridge over the Mississippi River tomorrow at 12:30 p. m., he announces.

"It is the only bridge over the Mississippi from St. Paul to New Orleans that I haven't jumped from," Woods said, "and I want to make the record complete."

Woods has dived from more than 130 bridges in the last few years, suffering his only serious injury when a diving tower in an amusement resort collapsed, throwing him to the ground.

At the present stage of the river, the Chain of Rocks span is about 105 feet above the water. Woods' highest dive was 175 feet, from a lighthouse in Charlevoix, Mich. In a few months, he says, he intends to dive from the new bridge over the Hudson River at New York. It is 213 feet high.

Crime in Chicago Rooted
In Dry Law, Speaker Says

Col. Randolph Thinks It Is Propagated Also By Willingness of Business Men to Buy Special Privileges.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The underlying causes of crime in Chicago are two, says Col. Robert I. Randolph, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, and the man who appointed the "secret six" crime committee of that body.

He addressed a New York Board of Trade luncheon meeting today.

"The first cause," he said, "is the effect of the prohibition law. The second, more difficult to describe or define, is the increasing tendency or willingness on the part of many business men and institutions, regarded and regarding themselves as decent citizens, to purchase special privileges, to violate all law to procure unfair weapons in the increasing competition of our economic life."

Illegal profit made through the sale of liquor are the meat upon which the crime octopus is fed, he said.

"An army of thieves, thugs, gunmen and rascals has been built up in the last 12 years and government has broken down in this country because respectable citizens by the millions pay a constantly mounting tribute to those robber barons for stuff they wouldn't drink if it were lawful," he continued.

"We had crime in plenty when liquor was lawful, of course, and the breeding spots of vice and crime were nearly always to be found in tough saloons, but the lawful liquor trade did not have to support, in order to live, all the vast organization of criminals that now gets its sinews of war against society from the smuggling, manufacture and distribution of contraband beer and booze. No other form of criminality is so universally condoned or so liberally supported."

The building up of spurious "business associations" for the securing of special privileges and price control of certain markets, Col. Randolph declared, had led to a system which preys alike upon the consumer, the laborer and the honest business man.

Dishonest business agents of labor unions had seized a power never intended for them, he charged. He called on the "rank and file of the union labor" to purge their organizations of such men.

But in the last analysis, Col. Randolph said, the blame for a continuance of lawless conditions may be laid squarely at the door of the citizen. "In this democracy of ours we get the kind of government we are entitled to. We are going to co-operate with our honest public officials wherever we can find them, support the honest elements in our Police Department, and aid the forces of the Federal Government in breaking up the national organization of crime that has covered the country like an invading army. I have faith to believe we will succeed."

Succumbs to Heart Attack
at Home Near Excelsior Springs, Second Relapse
in 10 Days.

By the Associated Press.
EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., Oct. 8.—Edward Livingston Morse, former leader of the Republican party in Western Missouri died at 2 a. m. today at his home near here.

Mr. Morse suffered a heart attack Sunday, the second within 10 days. Yesterday his condition became steadily worse. Physicians said they did not expect him to live through the day.

Conspicuous Figure in Lowden Campaign Fund Inquiry.

E. L. Morse was born March 10, 1866, in Binghamton, N. Y. His parents brought him to Missouri as a child, settling in Osborn, De Kalb County. He had to go to work in the local bank and drug store in his early years, hence received little schooling. At the age of 18 he went to Excelsior Springs and soon owned a drug store there. After selling out, he went to Kansas City and studied for two years in a law school, then was admitted to the bar.

He was elected City Attorney of Excelsior Springs, and in 1892 was elected to the Legislature. He obtained passage of a measure by which the city of Excelsior Springs was enabled to build a sewer system.

The Excelsior Springs lighting and water system was promoted by Morse, and he was active in bringing about construction of a nine-mile railroad line, acquired later by the Wabash, and connecting Excelsior Springs with a junction of the same name on the Wabash's St. Louis and Kansas City line. He promoted the Elms Hotel, and organized the Excelsior Springs Trust Co.

A biographical sketch says that Excelsior Springs, "with its modern improvements and its air of progress and prosperity, stands largely as a monument to the enterprise and business ability of Hon. E. L. Morse."

He was a Republican party leader in the days of overwhelming Democratic control of Missouri. He was aligned with Richard C. Kerens of St. Louis, who sought to control Federal patronage in Missouri under several national administrations. When Missouri began to go Republican, Morse was found in antagonism to Gov. Hadley, and later to Gov. Hyde, who exchanged broadsides of detraction with him.

"Mr. Morse," says the biographical sketch previously cited, "numbers among his friends ex-Gov. Lowden of Illinois." Biographical sketches of Gov. Lowden, however, do not reciprocate this kindly reference. Morse figured very conspicuously in the incidents that prevented Lowden from being the nominee of the Chicago convention of 1920, and President thereafter.

L. L. Emmerson, now Governor of Illinois, then manager of the Lowden campaign, testified before a senatorial investigating committee in May, 1920, that he disbursed $38,703 to create sentiment favorable to Lowden among Missouri delegates, and that of this amount, all but about $6000 was paid to Morse.

The payments of $2500 each to Nat Goldstein and Robert E. Moore of St. Louis, district delegates to the convention, and of $1000 to Fred Essen of Clayton, were not made through Morse, Morse, when questioned before the committee, said he had received about $22,000, and had "expended it in getting out the workers." He said he paid about $17,000 of the amount to Jacob L. Babler, National Committeeman. The names of various politicians to whom Morse and Babler disbursed the money were brought out by the committee. The revelations had the effect of destroying Lowden's chance for the nomination, as like developments had destroyed the chance of Gen.

Leonard Wood. These circumstances brought on the situation in which Senator Harding was nominated and elected to the presidency.

In the course of the discussion of the campaign fund revelations in the Senate, Senator Spencer spoke in praise of Morse, as a leading citizen of Missouri.

Morse's home at Excelsior Springs was sold to the United States Government in 1921 for $116,100, of which $90,000 was for the house and original grounds, and $26,100 for additional land belonging to Morse. This deal was investigated in 1923 by the Senate Committee inquiring into the Veterans' Bureau. At Morse's request, a special reappraisal committee was appointed, and it made a report approving the deal.

Morse married twice, his first wife was Kate D. Lemon, whom he married May 9, 1884. There were three children, Benjamin W. Morse, who died; Wallace M. Morse of Wichita, Kan., and Howard Morse of Excelsior Springs. Mrs. Morse died in 1893.

He then married Harriett C. Chamberlain of Denver. Their children were William Morse, St. Louis; Mrs. Charles Wasson, Kansas City, and Miss Marguerite Morse, Excelsior Springs.

ROBBERS KILL POLICE CHIEF, WOUND 2 AIDS

Two of Three Men Who Held Up North Carolina Postoffice Also Shot.

By the Associated Press.

MURPHY, N. C., Oct. 5.—Three robbers who held up the Coker Creek (Tenn.) Postoffice late yesterday, engaged a squad of Murphy policemen in a fight early today, killing the Chief of Police and wounding two patrolmen, one perhaps fatally.

Two of the robbers, who gave their names as Walter Bryson, 35 years old, of Cherokee County, and Jeff McPherson, 40, of Kentucky, were shot and perhaps fatally wounded. The third escaped.

Mack Carringer, Chief of Police of Murphy, was killed instantly.
Patrolman George Leatherwood, 35, was shot in the right lung and Patrolman Burt Savage in the arm. Toby Fain, a fourth policeman engaged, escaped injury.

Fain said C. C. Linderman, Postmaster at Coker Creek, little Tennessee mountain town, called Carringer on the telephone last night and told him the Postoffice had been robbed by three men who were headed toward Murphy.

Carringer went to the west edge of the town with the three patrolmen and waited for the automobile. Shortly after midnight they sighted and halted it. Carringer began to question the occupants and one of them suddenly drew a pistol and shot him, the fight following.

Linderman came to Murphy this morning and identified Bryson and McPherson as two of the three who held him up. He said they carried him, bound and gagged, several miles into the mountain country near Coker Creek and left him tied to a tree. He succeeded in loosening his bonds and telephoned Carringer.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS INCREASING; 648 CASES

This Is Almost as Many as Reported in Same Week of 1927.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Increased infantile paralysis cases were reported today to the Public Health Service. Cases over the country total 648 as against 661 in the same week of 1927. Last year the highest was 150 and the year before 340 cases.

During 1928 and 1929, the disease started its upward curve in July, reached its peak in September and had subsided by the end of October. This year the disease began mounting in June and has been on a sharp upward climb ever since. During the past three weeks it has tallied 505, 555 and 648
cases.

The peak is now thought to have been passed in California, where the disease was earliest in its start.
In Nebraska, however, the number jumped from 26 last week to 60 this week. In Kansas the number had mounted from 48 to 87.
Massachusetts, which had 115 cases in the corresponding week of 1927, has 48 now. California, with 26 three years ago, now has 68.
Kansas has 37, as against 15 in 1927, and Nebraska 60 as compared with 10 then.

Other states reporting more than a scattering of cases in today's compilation were: New York, 50; Pennsylvania, 15; Ohio, 75; Indiana, 17; Illinois, 23; Michigan, 20; Wisconsin, 14; Minnesota, 17;
Iowa, 25; Missouri, 18; South Dakota, 14; Arkansas, 11, and Wyoming, 12.

ALLAN PINKERTON DIES; DETECTIVE AGENCY PRESIDENT

Head of Largest Private Organization of Its Type in World Succumbs to Pulmonary Trouble.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Allan Pinkerton, the second of that name to head the largest private detective agency in the world, died yesterday afternoon at the Presbyterian Hospital. He had been in ill health for many years and pulmonary trouble caused by an overdose of mustard gas in the World War, was primarily responsible for his death. He was 54 years old.

Since the death of his uncle, William A. Pinkerton, in 1923, Mr. Pinkerton had been president of Pinkerton's National Detective Agency, with agents in every metropolitan center of the globe.

He was quite the opposite type from his father, Robert A. Pinkerton, and his uncle, who managed the agency jointly after the death of Allan Pinkerton, the founder. While they were active operatives and went into the field on the most difficult cases, he preferred to sit behind the scenes and pull the strings. Thus it happens that his name seldom found its way into print, and then it was more likely to appear as that of a guest at a social event than as that of the head of an organization which the underworld feared.

Pinkerton offered his services to the United States in the World War and his offer was accepted. He was made a Major and was assigned to the intelligence unit of the Provost Marshal. With this organization he saw active service in France.

He was essentially an outdoor man and his name was closely associated with polo and racing. At various times he owned racing stables and strings of polo ponies. Horseback riding was his favorite recreation.

He owned two estates, one in Islip, L. I. and the other in Alken, S. C. He is survived by his widow, a son, Robert A., and two sisters, Mrs. J. Carlisle and Mrs. Lewis Gibb, both of New York.

ALT, STEININGER MAKE RADIO SPEECHES ON FIRE PREVENTION

Chief and Director of Public Safety Urge Public Caution to Reduce Losses.

Fire Chief Alt and Director of Public Safety Steininger, speaking from Radio Station WLL yesterday, told how fire losses may be reduced through proper precautions. The addresses were part of the program of Fire Prevention week.

Declaring that "fires should be fought before they start," Alt pointed out that it was not necessary to wear a uniform to be a fire fighter and urged caution by the public. Of a fire loss last year of about $473,000,000, he said, statistics show about 80 per cent could have been prevented. The careless smoker caused about $27,000,000 of the loss, he stated, and defective chimneys caused about $27,000,000. Steininger stated that 10,000 persons lost their lives through fires last year and that about $400,000,000 was spent on fire insurance premiums and a like amount in maintaining fire departments and water supplies. He suggested that each industry should assume its share of responsibility for fire losses by establishing a fire prevention program.

Assistant Fire Chief Ward will discuss fire prevention tomorrow noon at a meeting of the North Side Optimist Club at Fairgrounds Hotel. Reynold Hoffman, manager of the Safety Council, will speak on the same subject at 12:30 p. m. at a meeting of the Zonta Club at the Town Club.

LEGGE PREDICTS GRADUAL GAIN IN WHEAT MARKET

Farm Board Chairman Tells Capitalist There Will Be "No Santa Claus." However.

By the Associated Press. TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 8.—Gradual improvement "from the present unhappy condition" of the wheat market was predicted by Alexander Legge, chairman of the Federal Farm Board, in a letter received yesterday by Senator Arthur Capen.

"It does seem," the Farm Board chairman wrote, "that practically all of the unfavorable things that could have happened, have happened."

In regard to a telegram from the Chamber of Commerce of Liberal, Kan., which urged "drastic action" in grain speculation "at the expense of grain growers," Legge said, "I am afraid that our good friends at Liberal are disposed to place more of the responsibility for their present unhappy condition on the exchanges than facts would justify."

"Certainly they won't find any Santa Claus who is going to take off their hands at a price satisfactory to them any commodity which the market will not absorb."

Hoover Offers $5 Prize.

EAST SIDE AIRPORT FOR MAIL OPPOSED

Congressman Cochran and City Officials to Fight Move
From Lambert Field.

Congressman Cochran, Mayor Miller, and officers of the Municipal Airport Commission have taken action to prevent the designation of Curtiss-Stenberg Airport, on the east side, as an air mail landing field in preference to Lambert-St. Louis Field, the municipal airport, on which the city is spending $2,000,000.

City officials say they have received information that a movement is on foot to have planes of the new transcontinental air mail service through St. Louis, which will begin next week, use the east side airport operated by the Curtiss-Wright Co.

Financial connection between the Curtiss-Wright organization and T. A. T. Maddux Airlines and Western Air Express, which received the mail contract jointly, practically assures the use of Curtiss-Stenberg Airport for the new service, unless preventive action is taken promptly, city officials say.

Cochran Asks for Delay.
Congressman Cochran today addressed a telegram to Postmaster-General Brown requesting that no action be taken until he was granted a personal hearing. In the telegram Cochran pointed out that the Government and the city had provided radio, weather station, runways, lights, a branch postoffice, and other facilities for air mail planes at the municipal airport at great expense.

In the event Curtiss-Stenberg Airport was designated as the landing place for planes on the transcontinental route, the Universal Aviation Corporation, operating air mail service to Chicago, Kansas City, and Omaha, would be forced to move from the municipal airport due to the necessity of coordinating service, Cochran informed Postmaster-General Brown. Such action would cause a serious loss to the city of St. Louis, and would impair the development of the municipal field, he said.

A telegram asking that Lambert-St. Louis Field be given first consideration was sent to the Board of Directors of Western Air Express by Mayor Miller, Director of Public Welfare Salubury, who is chairman of the Municipal Airport Commission, and Charles L. Cunningham, secretary of the Commission. The facilities provided by the city and the advantages through economical service charges at the municipal field were stressed in the telegram.

Telegrams to Officials.
Telegrams calling attention to the reported effort to have the St. Louis air mail port taken out of the State have been sent to Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, Gov. Caulfield, Clarence M. Young, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aeronautics, Senators Hawes and Patterson, Congressman Dyer and Niedringhaus, the Chamber of Commerce and officials of St. Louis County.

Lambert-St. Louis Field is on Natural Bridge road, 18 miles from the Main Postoffice. Mail trucks, operating with governors, make the trip in 40 minutes. Curtiss-Stenberg Airport, south of East St. Louis, is approximately six miles from the Postoffice via the Municipal Bridge. City officials point out, however, that, due to traffic conditions on the Municipal Bridge during rush periods, there would be little saving in time in the transportation of mail from the east side field to the Postoffice.

Mistakes Poison for Medicine.
Mrs. Isia Coyhis, 25 years old, 3106 Leola avenue, is in a serious condition at city hospital as a result of taking poison tablets, which she says she mistook for medicine last night.

RIGHTS OF AMERICANS IN FRANCE CHALLENGED

U. S. State Department Investigating Alleged Discrimination.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Charges of discrimination against American property owners in France, which may involve the question of reciprocal Franco-American treaty rights, are being investigated by the State Department.

The attention of the Department has been called to the case of Capt. Paul Rockwell, an American citizen, who bought a home in Paris in 1926 and has been defeated in every effort since that time to get possession from a Frenchman who was a tenant when the purchase was made.

The tenant, it was alleged, upon learning the new owner was an American, declined to move from the premises under the terms of the so-called French rent laws. Under the Franco-American treaty of 1853, French citizens in the United States and American citizens in France have equal rights with the citizens of the country in which they reside so far as property ownership is concerned. This treaty now accords these rights to some 155,000 Frenchmen in the United States, as compared with about 12,000 Americans in France.

Capt. Rockwell, who fought in the French army in the World War and was decorated for bravery, has had no success in pressing his case before the French courts on five occasions.

In one instance, it was charged, the Judge asked Rockwell's attorney if his client were an American citizen. Receiving an affirmative reply, it was said, the Judge replied:

"Then leave the court. An American citizen has no rights here. If he wishes to enjoy the rights of the French laws he must become naturalized."

The Judge, according to information before the State Department, refused to allow the case to proceed and delivered from the bench remarks uncomplimentary to the United States.

Aside from watching the situation, which has deprived a considerable number of Americans in Paris of possession of property they have purchased, the State Department has done little.

The matter was brought recently to the attention of Under-Secretary of State Cotten, but there was no action until Capt. Rockwell returned from France to appeal personally for assistance.

GOVERNMENT OFFERS PLEA AGAINST OIL MERGER

Presents Arguments at Omaha Opposing Standard and Vacuum Proposal.

By the Associated Press.
OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 8.—The Government yesterday presented to three Federal Appellate Judges its arguments against the proposed merger of the Standard Oil Co. of New York and the Vacuum Oil Co. John Lord O'Brian of counsel for the Government traced what he termed the history of the two companies in attempting in the past to evade the 1911 decision of the Supreme Court which dissolved the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey and 27 subsidiaries, including the two defendant companies. He charged the two companies had collaborated with others to attain objectives forbidden by the 1911 decree.

The argument was in reply to the contention of attorneys for the companies that the 1911 decision was not in danger of defiance in the proposed merger and that it was not in any sense a violation of the antitrust laws, but was a move to expand competition and not to stifle trade.

O'Brian termed the proposed merger a "challenge to the equitable power of injunction."

OBJECTS TO DELAY IN OBTAINING LAND FOR MISSOURI U.

Dr. Loeb in Analysis of Survey Says Spreading Purchase Over 10-Year Period Is Uneconomical.

Dr. Isidor Loeb, professor of political science and dean of the School of Business and Public Administration of Washington University, in an analysis of the recommendations of the State Survey Commission for caring for the needs of the State university and other State educational institutions, while supporting the plans in the main, finds fault with the commission's proposal to spread the improvements over a 10-year period. The analysis was prepared at the request of the Associated Industries and is being circulated by it.

Dr. Loeb's principal objection is to any delay in acquiring land which will be needed in the future for extension of the campus, basing his criticism of this feature of the report on economic grounds.

"Since 1921," Dr. Loeb said, "the university has received practically no appropriations for new buildings except to complete two for which part of the funds came from private benefactors. As a result it is 10 years behind in its building program."

"The project for the School of Mines are to be provided during the first three bienniums, but of those for the University at Columbia one-half come during the last six years of the decade."

"As Soon as Possible."

"The Commission is right in urging the anticipation of need for campus extension by the purchase of land but this should be secured as soon as possible instead of being spread over a 10-year period with increased cost of acquisition."

He recalled that when he was a student in the university, it was offered a tract of land for $10,000. The purchase was not made but 25 years later the university paid about $250,000 for less than one-half the tract.

Dr. Loeb found no fault with the recommendation for a total increase in university expenditures of $12,055,000 in the 10 years, but raised a question as to the adequacy of a proposal for an increase of $3,200,000 in the fund for support and salaries. He expressed the opinion that this full amount would be needed for salary increases alone.

In reviewing the recommendations for increased expenditures of $11,113,000 in 10 years for the State Teachers' Colleges, he contended himself with outlining the plans for new buildings and increased support, and referred to the recommendation that activities of these schools should be limited to training teachers. He offered no criticism.

He Opposes Consolidation.

Dr. Loeb took sharp issue with the Commission in its recommendation for consolidation of the administration of the School for the Blind and the Missouri Commission for the Blind.

He held that the School for the Blind is engaged specifically in educational work for the blind, while the Commission for the Blind has many other activities, including prevention of blindness, and teaching in homes, placement, pensions, shops and sales. "If it is to be a consolidated department," he said, "it should go into that of public welfare. Until such consolidation can be effected the two agencies should continue under their separate board. To adopt the Commission's recommendation would be to seriously impair the excellent work which both are doing at present."

In discussing the recommendations for improvements at Lincoln University, a school for Negro students, in Jefferson City, Dr. Loeb directed attention to the failure of the commission to refer to the legislative act authorizing the payment of tuition of Negro students who desire to take work in other colleges or universities in courses which are not offered at Lincoln, and of the failure of the commission to make a recommendation for improvements at the demonstration farm for Negro students at Dalton, Mo.

WOMAN WORRIED OVER MONEY SWALLOWS 100 TABLETS

Mrs. Lee Garvin, 326 Clara Ave., Missing Since Monday, Found Unconscious in Hotel.

A woman found unconscious yesterday in an Olive street hotel after having taken 100 medicinal tablets, was identified last night as Mrs. Lee Jane Garvin, 33 years old, who has been missing from her home, 326 Clara avenue, since Monday afternoon.

Her identity was established by policemen who learned she went to the Roxy Hotel, 326 Olive street, Monday afternoon in a taxicab, and registered under an assumed name, giving her address as Quincy, Ill. The taxi driver said he bought the tablets Monday for a woman he took from the Clara avenue address to the hotel.

Evelyn Louise Garvin, who reported her mother's disappearance to police Monday night, identified her mother at City Hospital. Her mother had been dependent over financial matters, she said. Mrs.

Garvin is unconscious and in a serious condition.

Farmer Slain; Son Held.
By the Associated Press.
HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 8.—J. W. Jones, 42 years old, farmer, was shot to death at his home near Sugarland last night as a result of a family quarrel. His son, Frank Jones, 24, farmer living nearby, surrendered at Houston and was charged with murder. Young Jones refused to tell what the killing was about, but neighbors said they heard loud voices at the home of the father.

3 HELD AFTER WOMAN HAS FIGHT IN GROCERY

She Accused Proprietor of Selling Liquor to Her Mother—None Found.

A woman who said she had gone to look for her mother at a place supposedly selling liquor was found by police in front of a grocery at 1001 North Eleventh street yesterday afternoon, suffering from lacerations of the face and two broken teeth.

The woman, who said her name was Mrs. Esther Redemsky, 29 years old, of 1412A North Broadway, said she had been informed that her mother was getting liquor at the store of Tony Indelicato at that address, and that she suffered her injuries when she attempted to search the place. Indelicato and his brother, Vincent Indelicato, she said, struck her when she refused to accept their statements that her mother was not there. Police searched the place but found no liquor. The three were held on peace disturbance charges.

A man booked as James Roberts, 33 years old, of 1003 Market street, was held by police after his automobile had collided with another machine at Twenty-third and Market streets and police found liquor in it. Roberts told them, they reported, that the automobile he was driving was one a customer at his saloon at 230 Market street, had left in consideration of a $10 loan. The driver was held and the police took charge of the car.

Hidden in a pot of cooked beans on a stove at 2715 Morgan street yesterday, police found a half pint bottle of whisky. They arrested John Giles, a Negro, of that address.

Others arrested in liquor raids were booked as: Joseph Capricioni, 4255 Polson avenue; Frank Belno, and five others, 5365 Easton avenue; Charles Akerhart, 2216 Morgan street; Guido Negri, 4069 (rear) McKee avenue; Mrs. Marie Barth, 3515A Cass avenue; Thomas Whalen and one other, 1523 Elliot avenue; Mrs. Bertie Johnson, Negro, and four other Negroes, 2725 Mills street; Frank Licavoli, 922 North Thirteenth street; Marshall Whittaker, 4130 Manchester avenue; George Nenninger, 3516 Cass avenue.

Twenty-one Negroes were arrested in a police game at 2308 Morgan street; 13 Negroes in a game at 2127A Market street, and 26 Negroes and a white man in a dice game at 800 North Jefferson avenue.

J. T. KELLY, RETIRED MERCHANT DIES FROM AUTO INJURIES
Struck by Car Week Ago; Driver Says He Stepped Backward in Machine's Path.

John T. Kelly, 84 years old, a retired merchant of 5075 Vernon avenue, died at DePaul Hospital today of a fractured right hip and internal injuries suffered a week ago when he was struck by an automobile in front of 5089 Page boulevard.

The driver, Morris Frederickson, 4247 Delmar boulevard, told police Kelly apparently became confused in crossing the street and stepped backward into the path of the car.

15 Hurt in Riot in India. MADRAS, India, Oct. 8.—Fifteen persons were seriously injured at a riot in a town near here yesterday. The trouble occurred in connection with a religious procession.

16 RUSSIAN STUDENTS HELD FOR ANTI-U. S. PROPAGANDA

Group Stopped at Ellis Island on Complaint of American Engineers on Ship.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Sixteen
Russian students were held at Ellis Island today while immigration authorities investigated charges that they had spread anti-American propaganda among aliens aboard
the White Star liner Majestic.

A party of American engineers returning from Russia made the complaint against the students when the ship reached Quarantine yesterday. The engineers, who understood Russian, told immigration inspectors they overheard the students making remarks derogatory to the United States Government and asserting that revolutionary activities in China and India were the result of Soviet agitation. They said similar agitation was in progress in this country.

The students, whose number included two women, were coming into this country on six months' permits to study American industrial and commercial methods.

$57,000 CIRCUS PROFITS
FOR POLICE PENSION FUND

Ticket Sale Receipts for Week's Entertainment Totaled $89,250;
Program Advertising, $5000.

Profits from the recent police circus, held at The Arena for one week beginning Sept. 22, will approximate $57,000, Patrolman Elmer Wemler, secretary of the Police Relief Association, which sponsored the circus, announced today.

In a report to Chief Clerk Wem-ler says that receipts from ticket sales amounted to $89,250. Total expenditures were $37,147, leaving a profit of $52,103. To this will be added approximately $5000 derived from program advertising.

The money will go to the fund for the relief of widows and orphans of policemen and for retirement fees for aged officers. The circus was the first held under the new Police Board, the previous board having prohibited the annual circus.

In the final it was a case of much Earnshaw for the Cardinals.
Although he had worked out hard innings in St. Louis, Earnshaw
he came back to stop the Red's sluggers with five hits, two them coming in the ninth, win-for the first time in the series.
appeared to weaken. In betwe-out innings. The right-hander certainly proved he has star

the series, although he was cre-

The Cardinals in the last

New Records Set.

There were several records estab-

Then the Athletics went through game with only three assists, while in the game at St. Louis last Su-day, the two right fielders had putouts between them to establish a new standard.

And Jim Bottomley came with one of the series' striking records. He whiffed nine times, which probably is a new high mark for six games. The record is set by George Kelly of the Giants in 1921 in eight battles.

Pitchers Completely Dominated the Series

EARNSHAW'S REMARKABLE WORK SWUNG BALANCE TO MACK; NEW RECORDS SET

By Herman Wecke.
Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—The 1930 world series which featured the greatest pitching efforts seen in the title struggle in recent years came to a close here this afternoon, when the Athletics downed the Cardinals, 7 to 1, to retain the title won a year ago.

In the final it was a case of too much Earnshaw for the Cardinals. Although he had worked seven hard innings in St. Louis Monday he came back to stop the Redbird slugs with five hits, two of them coming in the ninth, when for the first time in the series he appeared to weaken. In between he twirled a total of 22 straight shutout innings. The right-hander certainly proved the big star of the series, although he was credited with only two of the victories while Lefty Grove had the same number.

The Cardinals in the last two games facing Earnshaw and Grove in the fifth and Earnshaw in the sixth were able to score only one run and count 16 hits.

Prior to that in the games at St. Louis the Athletics had been able to score only three runs in the three contests, while in the first two at Philadelphia, the Cardinals were stopped with a total of three runs. It was truly sensational pitching and the records will show that the twirlers had it all over the slugs, except in a very few instances.

New Records Set.
There were several records established. Frank Fitch set a new all-time record for hits in a world series with a total of 45, beating the previous high mark of 42. Then the Athletics went through a game with only three assists, while in the game at St. Louis last Sunday, the two right fielders had 14 putouts between them to establish a new standard.

And Jim Bottomley came within one of tying the series shutout record. He whiffed nine times, which probably is a new high mark for six games. The record is 16, set by George Kelly of the Giants in 1921 in eight battles.

Each Cardinal Gets $2857.
Each Cardinal player will receive, as salary for his wounded feelings, $2857 as his share of the world series gate receipts. Each of Connie Mack's men will take down $3785. The Cardinals' player share aggregates $90,665.14 and the Athletics, as a team took the winners' share amounting to $158,627.50.

Art Reinhart, southpaw pitcher, who spent the summer at Houston and St. Joseph, was the first hurler to pitch to the Cardinals in practice. Reinhart was shipped to St. Joe after Dixie Dean was brought up by the Cardinals. Reinhart is just one more of the players who does not like night baseball, although he admits it is the salvation of the minors.

While the Red Birds were enacting in batting practice the sun broke through and a great cheer went up from the dollar customers.

Bob Quinn Pretty Hot.
Bob Quinn, president of the Red Sox, is still looking for a manager, after his announcement that he was through with Joe McCarthy. He said today that at the present he had no one in mind.

"Maybe I am fortunate that McCarthy wanted a tailor-made club," said Quinn. "I made him a rather silly offer. Told him to write his own contract as to length and salary. If a man don't see the way clear to accept terms of that sort, then I am through with him."

NATIONALS WIN ONLY 3 OUT OF 19 SERIES GAMES

WITH the end of the 1930 world series, the American League can show a remarkable record in interleague play. In the last four years, 19 world series games have been played. Of these the Americans have won 16 and lost but three, which is a percentage of .842 as against the .158 showing of the Nationals.

In 1927, the Yankees defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates four straight.

In 1928, the Yankees defeated the Cardinals four straight.

In 1929, the Athletics defeated the Chicago Cubs four out of five.

In the series just completed, the Athletics defeated the Cardinals four out of six.

The Cardinals, winning in 1926, four out of seven from the Yankees, were the last National League club to win the world championship.

What Earnshaw Did in Helping Athletics Win
AS credited with two victories. Pitched 22 scoreless innings. Allowed 14 hits and only two runs in 22 innings of pitching. Pitched series scoreless innings in fifth game, the victory in which was credited to Grove.

Pitched final game with only one day of rest. Struck out 19 men in 25 innings. Walked only 6 men in 25 innings.

Hornsbey Ready to Trade.
Having completed the job of managing the Cubs to the Chicago city championship by victory over the White Sox, Rogers Hornsbey came East to view the last-end of the world series. Hornsbey met most of his former pals on the St. Louis team last night and wished them good luck.

While he said no deals had been talked over, Hornsbey declared that the Cubs were willing to make any trade which would strengthen the team for the 1931 flag race.

For the first time in games played here, the Athletics were given a real cheer from the home crowd. Crowds here differ greatly from those in St. Louis in that there are very few women and children in the stand.

Manager Mack shifted his batting order for the first time in the series, sending Moore from Dallas to left field and shifting Simmons to center. This put Haas on the bench. In an effort to get more hitting, Gabby Street put Watkins in third place in the start order, with Frisch fourth and Bottomley dropping to sixth. The shift from Haas to Moore gave Mack another right-hand swinger against Hallahan.

Al Schacht and Nick Altrock put on a better and umpire act which was a scream. Finally Nick got a hit and out from first to third. Al stopped him, got a chew and then let him go to third. He then stole home, whereupon Schacht called Nick out and Altrock bounced the ball off his chest protector. Then Schacht, as he walked to the bench, kicked Charley Rigler's chest protector and mask all around.

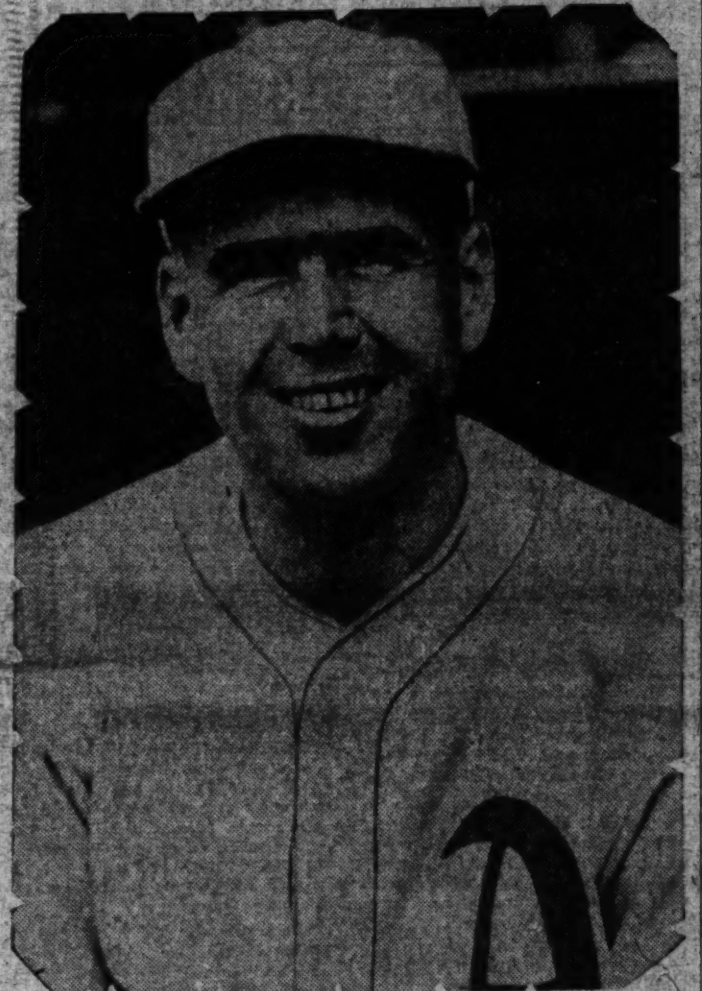

A spontaneous cheer went up when the Athletics took the field to start the game. There was another blast from the fans when Earnshaw was announced as the Mack pitcher. At this time there were vacant seats in the stands, but the fans were still coming in.

When Earnshaw put the Cardinals down in order in the fifth, it gave him 19 successive scoreless innings against the Redbirds and a record of one tally in 21 frames.

"Maybe I am fortunate that McCarthy wanted a tailor-made club," said Quinn. "I made him a rather silly offer. Told him to write his own contract as to length and salary. If a man don't see the way clear to accept terms of that sort, then I am through with him."

EARNSHAW COMES BACK AFTER ONE-DAY REST AND SCORES HIS SECOND VICTORY OVER REDBIRDS

By J. Roy Stockton.
Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.
SHIBE PARK, Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—George Earnshaw, Connie Mack's rubber-armed right-hander, who knows not the need of rest, pitched the Athletics to their second straight championship of the baseball world this afternoon, beating the Cardinals, 7 to 1, for the American league pennant winners' fourth victory of the series.

In the six games needed to decide the struggle, the Cardinals triumphed only twice over their rivals.

Earnshaw, making his third start against the Redbirds of St. Louis, held Gabby Street's warriors scoreless for eight innings. In that stretch of the game he was touched for only three hits. In the ninth Andy High singled. Watkins walked and after Frisch lined into a double play, Chick Hafey doubled down the left field line for the St. Louis team's only run of the game.

Earnshaw Game's Hero.
While the Mackmen made seven extra base hits, each good for a run, to capture the game that meant the championship, Earnshaw will go down as the outstanding hero of the title struggle. He beat the Cardinals in the second game at Shibe Park last Thursday, pitched seven scoreless frames at St. Louis Monday to give the American League a one-game lead and then with only one day's rest he burned fast balls and curves past the Cardinals this afternoon.

In his three starts he worked 25 innings and held the Redbirds to two runs and 14 widely scattered hits.

Earnshaw, along with Bob Grove, the other member of Connie Mack's two-man pitching staff, accounted for the American League victory over the Cardinals, and justified the statement attributed to the Maout of the White Elephants after Monday's game that he would use only his two great pitchers to conclude the conquest over the St. Louis team.

Hallahan Falls.
Bill Hallahan, who started on the mound this afternoon, showed plainly that he was not in condition to tackle another important pitching assignment. He blanked the Athletics in St. Louis Saturday, but that flashing left arm needs more than "three days' rest" and in the opening frame today the National League "supporters" were ready to admit that victory or defeat depended on Bill, the Redbirds' portion would not be victory.

A pass to Dykes started the Mackmen on their way to the winners' share of the spoils in the first inning. Cochrane, the next batter, rifled a hit to right. Bottomley leaped and touched the ball with his glove, but only touched it. The ball sailed on, its speed unchecked and when Watkins, in his career's first home run, stepped home and Cochrane sped to third. Simmons struck out, but Fox walked and Miller's double to right scored Cochrane with the second run of the inning; a tally that gave Earnshaw the slight margin he needed.

Hallahan went through the second inning without further damage but he was staggering and Manager Street wisely took him out for a pinch hitter. Sylvester Johnson then took up the pitching task and in three innings he was pounded for four hits and four runs.

Simmons hit a homer in the third. Bishop walked and scored on Dykes' double in the fourth and Fox scored and moved home on a sacrifice bunt and a sacrifice fly in the fifth. With Lindsey hitting the ninth, Bishop walked. Haas on balls—Off Hallahan 2 (Dykes 2, Fox); off Johnson 1 (Bishop); off Lindsey 1 (Bishop); off Earnshaw 2 (Bottomley 2, Watkins).

Struck out—By Earnshaw 6 (Douthitt, Watkins, Bottomley, Adams, Wilson, Blades); by Hallahan 2 (Simmons, Earnshaw); by Johnson 2 (Moore, Earnshaw).

Hit—Off Hallahan, 2 in 2 innings; off Johnson, 4 in 3; off Lindsey 1 in 2; off Bell, none in 1.

10 BOYS OUT FOR FOOTBALL T COUNTRY DAY

There is strength in numbers, country day school should be doing some real football work within the next few years. The enrollment of the school is 270, and every afternoon 240 boys pile into uniforms to get out to practice with any of 12 teams. Which means that, with the exception of the 30 who are trying for places on the varsity team, every boy in the school is playing football.

The teams are classified according to the age and height of the players. The "A," "B" and "C" eleven compete in the ABC League, with similar teams of three other squads, and the nine other squads, the smaller boys, are members of intra-class leagues which struggle for honors in their particular divisions.

"Graduate" to Bigger Teams. Apparently, the idea is working. Players on the various eleven "graduate" to bigger teams from year to year, and there is a steady flow of material to the larger outfit. On the "A" and this season Coach Hughes has but five lettermen, Schlapp, a guard; Strelinger, a center, and a tackle, among the line-men, and two backs, Morgan and Barton. However, with players from the "B" team of last year now trying for the "A" squad, prospects are good. The eleven in its first game, defeating Princeton, 8-0, and although light in weight, showed evidence of developing into a powerful aggregation.

The "B" outfit has lost all of last season's veterans, but with a few of experienced "C" team men fill the various positions, should be a successful year. In its first game this squad tied Princeton's arm of the same class, 0-0.

Four Lettermen on "C" Team. The "C" eleven has four lettermen, Polster and Hocker, guards, and Taylor and Thompson, ends. Thompson has shown ability in lining the signals and may be lifted to quarterback. The "B" team from the smaller teams are doing well on this outfit also, and prospects for a good season are more than fair.

THE first night college football game to be played in New York will take place at the Polo Grounds on Friday, Oct. 10, between Manhattan College and Oglethorpe University of Atlanta.

The Oglethorpe game will mark the first major game for the local eleven under the regime of its new head coach, John Law, captain of the unbeaten Notre Dame team of 1923. Law was an all-American guard last season. Oglethorpe is coached by Harry Robertson, former Syracuse all-American center.

BILLIKENS APPEAR PHYSICALLY FIT FOR MISSOURI GAME, SATURDAY

WALSH TO HOLD M'KINNEY OUT AT START, PIKE CALLING SIGNALS

By James M. Gould.

When St. Louis University and the University of Missouri resume their ancient but recently lapsed football rivalry here next Saturday afternoon, the Billikens will be physically ready for the meeting with the powerful Tigers. Yesterday's rain made a good practice impossible, but the men all worked out, and will continue the action on Saturday.

The game, which will formally dedicate the Walsh Memorial Stadium on Oakland avenue, will be the first between the two institutions in seven years. They last battled in 1923, and the result was a scoreless tie. The officials, a scores of the St. Louis officials, will be different from the two institutions in seven years. Walsh has planned several changes in his battle line, and the team that first faces the Tigers will be different from the one that will play the game.

Some surprise has been expressed that Pike, rather than Charley McKinney, will open at quarterback. But, it is probable, this is a strategic move designed to give McKinney, on the sidelines, a chance to use his undoubted cleverness in play, and to "spot" the Missouri defense.

That Missouri defeat at the hands of Colorado last Saturday hasn't hurt the Billikens' confidence. The reverse, rather, is true for Backfield Coach Elmer Wynne is of the opinion that such a defeat was just what the Tigers needed to weld Gwynn Henrich's strong material into a hard-fighting unit.

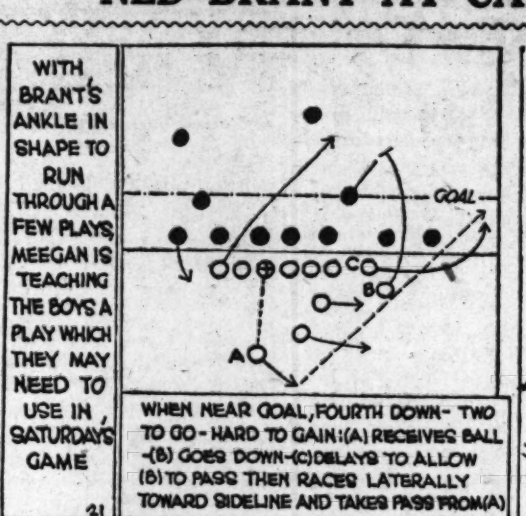

Coach Walsh's Billikens have improved in their two 1930 games. They won from Cornell College in the opener but, last Friday, were beaten 21-0, at Oklahoma City. Far from being discouraged by the defeat, Coach Walsh suggests that football followers watch the scores of the Oklahoma City Goldbugs make in their other games this season. It is a powerful and experienced and well-seasoned eleven.

A Contrast in Colors. The Billikens will be football uniforms in blue and white Saturday afternoon. The trousers they will wear are of royal blue with white hose and white jerseys to make the contrast. Missouri, of course, will be clad in the familiar black and orange ensemble.

JIM MALONEY is in again. The Boston "strong boy," who at one time threatened to displace John L. Sullivan's memory in the hearts of the Hub fight fans, and who has had as many ups and downs as an elevator, broke into headlines today through his defeat of Primo Carnera in Boston.

It wasn't much of a victory. Jim's frontpiece was pretty well chewed up from Carnera's pawing; but he last night rounds and was awarded the verdict—the first fighter in 24 to achieve this distinction over Carnera in the United States.

The success may serve to give his glass jaw a new pugilistic start up the ladder and earn him a few dimes over the next ham-and-egger comes along and pushes the right "button" on Maloney's cheek for a kayo. Carnera couldn't find it last night.

His defeat will help Carnera in two ways. First, even Madison Square Garden and the New York Commission will give him a chance.

About Maloney. MALONEY has a queer record. No one knows before a fight whether he will prove a cheese or a champion. He defeats opponents, then loses to them. He stands up under blows that would flatten an ox, from one fighter; and he wilts at a tap on the jaw from another.

He has beaten Jack Sharkey, Risko, Heene, George Cook and Leo Gates; yet each one of these fighters has about-faced and knocked him out.

Just when he was soaring up to the championship test, Maloney was eliminated on points by the man he had once defeated—Sharkey.

State Teachers' Elevens to Open Season This Week

By J. Roy Stockton.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Two months ago, after the Brooklyn Robins had started to falter and the Chicago Cubs had begun to show signs of a compound comminuted fracture of the pitching staff, Gabby Street, manager of the Cardinals received a telegram from the proprietor of a cigar store at Rome, N. Y., stating that his business was going to the dogs.

The cigar man pointed out that Street's team looked like the best in the National League and offered to start serious praying for the Cardinals, which undoubtedly would result in a pennant victory, he said.

The letter explained that with all the money the Redbirds would thus win they would be in good financial circumstances and easily could afford to make up a pool of $20 a man to pay the cigar store owner for the trouble of praying each day, and that this money would rehabilitate his business.

At $20 Per Prayer. Manager Street, who is a God-fearing man, figured that the Lord's prayers were not for sale at $20 a man and decided if there was any praying to be done his players could do it themselves in their own uncommercial way, and so he ignored the letter.

Telegrams followed from time to time as the Cardinals continued their pennant drive and Gabby was told that he should use a certain pitcher on a certain day. Street paid no attention to these messages and finally when the Cardinals had won the pennant and a Philadelphia newspaper published a statement by Harrison J. Weaver, the club trainer, attributing the team's luck to a chicken wishbone that the trainer had been carrying.

Street received an indignant telegram from the cigar store proprietor, who doubled in prayer at $50 a man. The telegram tersely said: "Wishbone, hell. I hold the situation in my power."

Street next received a telegram from the cigar store man, saying that Grimes would not win his first game, but to be of good cheer, he would come back and beat the Athletics the next time he started. Unfortunately, Jimmy Fox hit a home run and the cheer wasn't so good.

NATIONAL LEAGUE BATTERS BROKE ALL RECORDS THIS SEASON

By J. Roy Stockton.

NEW YORK.—The National League season has not been remarkable alone for the vigor with which the contending clubs cuffed each other around in the last few months of the campaign.

More and bigger records were kicked all over the premises by the individual stars of John Arnold Heydler's family circle than ever before. All club batting records were wiped out by an orgy of slugging in which the Giants led the league with a new all-time team mark of .318.

Hack Wilson and Chuck Klein did most of the record-busting. Hack grabbed the home run honors by cracking out 54, galloping home in front of Babe Ruth for the first time in his career and establishing himself as the only National Leaguer ever to paste out more than 50 circuit blows.

Wilson also set a new record for runs batted in by accounting for 190, 17 more than Lou Gehrig's former major league record.

Klein lost the home-run record which he set at 43 a year ago, but he made up for this by hitting out a record number of doubles, 58, and creating a new mark for assists, 42.

The Phillie star had one of the greatest offensive records of all time, leading the run scorers with 158, collecting 250 hits, only four short of the record that Bill Terry equaled with 254, driving in 170 runs and banging out 40 homers. His batting figure was .388.

Cross-Country Run. CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—The Western conference cross-country run will be decided at the University of Illinois Nov. 15.

HACK WILSON IS 'MOST VALUABLE' WRITERS VOTE

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Hack Wilson, slugging left fielder of the Chicago Cubs, has been voted the most valuable player of the National League by a committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Wilson, who smashed all National League home-run records this year and dethroned Babe Ruth as the major league home-run king, won the distinction after a close contest with Frankie Frisch, Captain of the St. Louis Cardinals, and Bill Terry, first baseman of the New York Giants and the new National League batting champion.

The election, although made by the same committee that functioned on behalf of the National League in 1929, was unofficial, inasmuch as the league last year abandoned its annual custom of picking the most valuable player and rewarding him with $1000.

Wilson, although he received only one vote for first place, had a total of 70 points, five of the eight writers picking him for second place, one for third and another fourth. Frisch received four votes for first place and a total of 54 points, while Terry was the first choice of three of the writers and had a total of 53 points.

Wilson led both leagues in home runs with a total of 56. He created a new all-time major league record for runs batted in, totaling 190, and his batting average was .388. Frisch, whose all-around playing was a feature of the Cardinals' rapid rise to the top, batted .346, while Terry led the hitting list with an unofficial mark of .401.

Other players who received votes, with their total points, were: Babe Herman, Brooklyn, 35; Chuck Klein, Philadelphia, 33; Kiki Cuyler, Chicago, 27; Glenn Wright, Brooklyn, 27; Fred Lindstrom, New York, 17; Paul Waner, Pittsburgh, 14; Elwood English, Chicago, 13; Al Lopez, Brooklyn, 12; Gabby Hartnett, Chicago, 10; Burtleigh Grimes, St. Louis, 9; Rabbit Maranville, Boston, 9; Walter Berger, Boston, 8; Travis Jackson, New York, 7; Gus Mancuso, St. Louis, 6; Pat Malone, Chicago, 6; Taylor Douthitt, St. Louis, 4; Pie Traynor, Pittsburgh, 3; Charley Gelbert, St. Louis, 2; George Grantham, Pittsburgh, 2; Ray Kremer, Pittsburgh, 2; Dazzy Vance, Brooklyn, 1; Harry Hellmann, Cincinnati, 1.

SCHWAKE TO MEET MORTISEN, CHICAGO HEAVY, IN BOUT HERE OCT. 17

FIGHT WILL BE SEMI-WINDUP TO MICKEY WALKER GO WITH CLINE

By W. J. McGoogan.

John Schwake, Webster Groves heavyweight, whose stock took quite a rise when he defeated Chuck Wiggins at Springfield, Ill., recently, is to meet Harvey Mortisen, Chicago heavyweight, in the 10-round semiwindup of Mike Malloy's card at the Coliseum on Friday, Oct. 17. Malloy announced today. Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, and Tiger Johnny Cline are to box the 10-round main event.

Malloy declares that Mortisen is a good, tough heavyweight, who fought Les Marriner a couple of fights when the former Illinois U. football star took a flyer at the ring game. Mike thinks Mortisen will be another step upward for Schwake, but says that John will have to be at his best to defeat Harvey.

Malloy has hopes of building Schwake up into a good drawing card here this winter.

Plans for Schwake. "Perhaps after John whips a couple more scrappers, maybe men like K. O. Christner and Tom Heeney, the people here will begin to realize that they have a good man. Then we can put him against some of the good ones, perhaps Johnny Risko, a boxer much on the same order as Schwake, who has met and defeated some of the best heavies in the ring, among them Campolo, the giant Argentine. And I believe after a few more bouts, Schwake will be able to whip Risko."

Malloy's ambitious program of a fight a week here was handed a knockout punch yesterday afternoon when Seneca Taylor, State Boxing Commissioner, declared that he would not permit Malloy, as matchmaker for the Frederick W. Stockham Post of the American Legion, to hold a show oftener than once every two weeks.

"What do you think I am going to do, freeze everybody else out?" demanded the commissioner rather heatedly. "Here Malloy comes along and wants to run every week. Felix wants a show a week, somebody else wants a date a week, Tom Packs wants to hold a show every other week. Then we have the amateur boxer. Why, between them all we would be nutty before the winter is over. Malloy can have a date about every two weeks if he wants it. I don't think there should be more than one big professional show every week. If there is more, nobody will make any money."

Malloy announced the signing of Cline yesterday. Johnny fought here twice last winter, defeating Chuck Heffner in 10 rounds and gaining a draw with Al Stillman in 10.

Cline is a bruising battler who has been in numerous fights in his career. He gives his opponents a good battle, but does not seem to carry enough steam in his punches to cause Walker to have any fear of being knocked out.

Babe Is Alternate.

Babe McCorgary, Oklahoma, who fought a number of good fights here several years ago, arrived recently and will be ready to take Cline's place if anything should happen to prevent Johnny from getting into the ring.

Cline has been ordered to report here from San Francisco as soon as possible and is expected early next week. Walker has a bout in Des Moines, Ia., on Oct. 12, and should be in St. Louis on the following day.

DUSEK AND STEINBORN SIGNED FOR MAT BOUT AT COLISEUM OCT. 15

Rudy Dusek of Little Rock will meet Milo Steinborn, a German heavyweight, in the main event of a professional wrestling card at the Coliseum next Wednesday night, Oct. 15. The bout, announced today by Promoter Tom Packs, brings the chunky Dusek against a grappler who wrestled him two hours to a draw decision at Shreveport, La., two years ago.

Steinborn has been consistently victorious in the East during the past few months, winning over such matmen as George Hagen, Pat McKay, Frank Brunowicz, Mike Romano and Charlie Fox. His victory over Hagen at Brooklyn, N. Y., May earned him a bout with Dick Shikat, who then held the N. B. A. title, which he subsequently lost to Jimmy London. Shikat pinned his compatriot in one hour and five minutes.

Dusek scored a triumph over Jim Clinestock in the feature attraction of the last Coliseum show, defeating a grappler who previously had chalked up triumphs over Fred Grohmer, Dick Daviscourt, Matros Kerlenko and Joe Komar, and who lost only to London in bouts at the Battery arena during the outdoor season.

Steinborn's favorite holds are the bear hug, flying mare and headlock, while Dusek specializes with back body, front and reverse headlocks, and the back body drop.

My 50 Years in Baseball

by CONNIE MACK Manager of the Philadelphia Athletics

Athletics' Manager Credits Eddie Collins With Playing a Very Conspicuous Part in the Success of His Team.

By Connie Mack.

IT was in the summer of 1906 that it was my good fortune to acquire a young baseball player who was going to play a conspicuous part in the success of the Athletics for many years afterward.

One of my former players wrote me a letter that he had played a game with a summer team of college boys who had a player that seemed to him to have every chance for development into a star.

He strongly recommended that I investigate. I had an extra catcher named Jimmy Byrnes, a California boy, who I could spare, and I told him to go to Rockville, Conn., and watch the player recommended to me.

In those days, the best players on college teams generally went to summer resorts and played on teams there during the long vacation.

If I am not mistaken, the colleges will no longer permit this on the ground that it smacks of professionalism.

Predicted Stardom for Collins. BYRNES accepted the commission and on his return from Connecticut he made a laconic report:

"Get that guy quick. He's going to become a star." This Rockville club was managed by Billy Lush, a former major league outfielder, who also coached Yale with success for a number of years. Lush is a man of character and always ready to help a player.

On the long-distance phone one night, I had a talk with Lush, who agreed to bring his player to me at the Fifth Avenue Hotel in New York for a talk.

At the appointed time I encountered Lush in the lobby accompanied by an undersized, frail,

How Eddie Collins Was Discovered By Connie Mack

A FORMER player for Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, tipped off his old pilot to the young collegian—Eddie Thowbridge Collins, who was to become one of the greatest second basemen in the majors. Collins, who still is a member of the Athletics, serving on the board of strategy, was attending Columbia University and playing summer baseball at a summer resort at Rockville, Conn., when discovered by the former Athletic player.

Jimmy Byrnes, an extra catcher, was sent by Mack to Rockville to watch Collins and immediately wired Mack: "Get that guy quick. He's going to become a star." And that prediction of stardom for Collins came true.

expectant looking youth, togged out in the collegiate style of 1906. He wore a sunken-in soft hat with a light blue and white band, a flannel suit and low cuts.

So this was my first meeting with Edward Thowbridge Collins, who was to serve me with such distinction in later years.

To tell the blunt truth, I had many misgivings over his being able to solve any of my problems when I took my first look at him. When he arose I had a second look and saw that he was all legs. He was not tall by any means but all of his length seemed to be disposed in legs.

Impressed by Collins' Talk.

WHEN he started to talk, he began to impress me. He was modest about himself but not at all timid and spoke fluently and to the point about his ambitions.

I then saw in him a wholesome, ambitious, bright-eyed youth enthusiastic whose one goal was to make good in the major leagues. I quickly forgot about his lack of stature. I was eyeing him all the time and sized him up as being strong and muscular even if he did not bulk big.

Eddie told me that he was a student of Columbia University and would receive his diploma in June next year. He added that he had been elected captain of the Columbia team for the spring of 1907. We quickly came to an agreement. I pointed out to Eddie that I wanted him to finish his college course and he agreed to join the Athletics after he received his diploma on the following June.

I thanked Billy Lush for his interest, shook hands with them both and departed.

Just before we were ready to leave on our last western trip that season, I was surprised when the strapping Collins came to Columbia Park and asked permission for him to take the last western trip.

I demurred and recalled the agreement but I found that he was so anxious to make the trip that I didn't have the heart to refuse him. So he went West with us and played a few innings or batted in a pinch under the name of Sullivan.

It was most carefully concealed that he was Captain Eddie Collins of Columbia University.

Collins never was destined to exercise his captaincy and play for Columbia that next spring but through no fault of his relations with the Athletics.

It seemed that colleges were beginning to look askance at summer baseball in general and the Rockville, Conn., team in particular, so Eddie didn't play baseball for his alma mater in 1907.

He continued his studies, however, and duly received his diploma in June. He joined us immediately. He didn't play enough that year to get into the official averages but I remember one afternoon when I sent him to bat for Monte Cross against Walter Johnson that he tripled to the clubhouse.

In July of that year I lent him to Newark for a week and he came right back to us. Eddie was unable to join us at the start of 1908 because he had contracted typhoid fever and was not able to play until the season was well under way.

When he recuperated sufficiently to play, I tried him at several positions including third, short, second and the outfield, but I didn't find a place where he could fit.

Becomes Regular in 1909.

MANY of my friends frankly told me that Collins would never do when they saw him play a few games. Nevertheless, I never lost faith in him, and told skeptics to wait. His illness had stayed his development and I knew that he was not strong at any time in 1908.

It was in 1909 that Collins was to win the reputation of being the greatest young infielder in the majors. On the training trip, I placed Eddie at second base on my second team and I worked with him all the time South.

I didn't even go North with the first team, which was scheduled to meet the Phillies in the annual spring series in Philadelphia, but put the veterans in charge of Harry Davis.

Playing second base for the Yankigans, Collins at once convinced me that he was worthy to be my regular second baseman.

I decided to have him replace Dan Murphy, whose fielding was not just what I wanted, although he was a marvelous hitter and base runner.

Still, Murphy meant so much to the team at bat that I had to place him. I then hit on the scheme of transferring Murphy to right field and playing Collins at second.

These two changes made our 1909 team and put us on the road to a real championship team. Collins became better all the time, while Murphy amazed everybody with his right-field play.

In a short time Collins was admittedly the hardest-hitting and most skillful fielding infielder in the first set.

Collins was my playing mainstay until our team was broken in 1914. He is now back with us as captain.

While no longer taking part in the playing end, Eddie is proving just as valuable on our board of strategy as he was on the field in his best playing days.

Tablers to Open Season, Sunday, With New Center

The shifting of Eddie Flavin from the old Madison team to the Tablers, the infusion of recruits in all four lineups, and the introduction of the Coca-Cola team will serve to make the opening of the St. Louis Soccer League schedule at Sportsman's Park Sunday afternoon somewhat more interesting than the usual opening day attraction.

Flavin, although admittedly a player of unusual qualifications, did not fit into Manager Phil Kavanaugh's plan of play and Phil, being especially insistent upon harmony within the ranks, traded Flavin to Johnny Marre for Harry Bochnick.

Many fans thought Kavanaugh was giving a load of coal for a bucket of ashes but Phil insists that he received equal value and he intends to prove it. Bochnick is at times a brilliant player and if he were constructed along more rugged lines he would be an outstanding star.

In opening the season, the Coca-Cola oppose Tate Brady's Hell-rangers in the first game of the double-header and the Ben Millers meet the Tablers in the second game.

No more Twilight League games will be played this fall. At a meeting of league officials last night it was decided to devote the time between now and the opening of the regular Municipal League season, Oct. 26, to practice games. The league games last Sunday night at Stars' Park were marred by foul and rough play.

Unless some assurance can be obtained that star players will not be taken by professional league teams before the Olympic competition of 1932, the Twilight League may not attempt to operate next spring. From 12 to 15 players of the Twilight League clubs were approached by professional league representatives and many have been signed for tryouts, the result being a greatly weakened amateur league.

Andy Fredrick's Bly-Moss team of the Municipal League, formerly the Angelicas, gave certain assurance of strength in beating the Gillespie team last Sunday, 4 to 2. Andy's boys had the score 4-1 at the half.

ALTON PREPARES FOR WOOD RIVER GAME SATURDAY

The football schedule of Alton High School will undergo a change this week as home games will be played on Friday nights instead of Saturdays. Installation of lights has just been completed at the Alton field.

Additional bleachers are also being erected to accommodate the extra crowd expected for the night football games. The field will be used next week for the first home game when Belleville will visit the Alton school. The following Friday Alton plays at Wood River.

Alton Saturday will be at Wood River and will open conference play for the Alton boys. Wood River began play last week by defeating Madison, 19-6. Alton has played but one game, losing to St. Charles.

Coach Jackson has been drilling his boys this week and will start the same lineup that worked against St. Charles. His charges are light.

Bill Eisenright will be at left end with Backus handling the other end. Delpho and Holmes will be at two tackles, with Cook and Ward posts. Orr will be at center.

In the backfield either Norbert White or Enoch Campbell will call signals and "Sonny" Schuster will be a running mate of the two. It is probable that Harry Haynes will complete the quartet.

It is undecided who will work the other half, but either Bert Siler or Everett Rags will win the starting assignment for the open position.

Carey's Team to Play the Negro Stars, Tonight

The St. Louis Stars of the Negro National Baseball League and winners of the Negro National baseball championship will play Max Carey's All Stars in the third game of their series at 8 o'clock tonight at the Starr Park, Compton avenue and Market street. The series consists of three games. Each team has won one game.

Allyn Stout, who was formerly owned by the Cardinals, is scheduled to pitch for the visiting team while Reese will probably select Trent or Hensley to hurl for the St. Louis Stars. Among Max Carey's All Stars are: Phil Todd of the Red Sox, "Homer" Mueller, formerly with the Cardinals and Giants and Johnny Tobin, as one time with the St. Louis Browns.

The St. Louis Stars are scheduled to leave here soon for Omaha where they will play in a winter series.

TONY'S JIM SETTER, VICTOR IN ANNUAL FIELD TRIAL EVENT

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y., Oct. 2.—In a field of closely matched competitors, Tony's Jim, white and black setter, owned by M. G. Adams of Sherill, N. Y., won the annual pheasant dog derby for dogs under 3 years old.

Second place went to the setter, Dutchstone Harry, owned by Dr. E. C. Wassen of Cambridge Springs, Pa., and Miss Step, another setter, owned by George Howard Jr. of Bradford, Pa., was a close third.

On this occasion the pointers were not in the running, although the odds were against them, there being only three in competition.

Tony's Jim, the winning dog, stood far out above the field in his spectacular work on game. The little 2-year-old, in spite of his youth, knows how to find and point the wily pheasant and in this respect his performance was almost the equal of the veteran performers of the all-age stakes.

60 MISSING IN MEXICAN FLOOD

Clondhurst Causes Inundation of Pachuca, Capital of Hidalgo.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 8.—Fifty persons are missing in the city of Pachuca after a flood caused by a clondhurst inundated it Monday night. Property loss is heavy. Troops patrolled the streets yesterday.

The flood was caused by the overflowing of the River Ayudaa, swollen by clondhurst. The waters swept through the streets, covering most of them, three feet deep. The Chamber of Deputies voted a relief fund of $10,000 for the victims. Pachuca is a mining center and capital of the State of Hidalgo.

WINDOW PUT IN RABBIT'S EAR TO STUDY GROWTH OF TISSUE

Reactions in Diseases May Be Noted by Method Developed at Pennsylvania U.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 8.—Through a window in a rabbit's ear, scientists are enabled to study the microscopic details of the growth of living tissue.

Through its use, says an announcement by the school of medicine of the University of Pennsylvania, information regarding the manner in which abnormal cellular reactions occur in infectious diseases, such as tuberculosis, and tumor growth, such as cancer, will be obtainable.

A transparent, double-walled chamber, or window, is put into a small hole made in the ear of a rabbit, like a woman's earring. One side of this window is of vitreous or glass and the other a very thin sheet of mica. The edges of the space intervening are left in contact with the tissues of the ear and from them the blood vessels and other living tissues invade the chamber until they form a complete new layer. This new layer, two-thousandths of an inch thick, is transparent.

The chamber can remain in place for months without causing discomfort to the animal. The method grew out of research by Dr. Elliot R. Clark and his wife, Eleanor L. Clark.

The Rockefeller foundation has granted $15,000 a year for five years for the perfection and extension of the window method.

HAS SECOND CROP OF APPLES

Arkansas Says Trees Bore in June and August.

MARSHALL, Ark., Oct. 8.—Felix Russell of the Horton Bend neighborhood has marketed June apples, the second crop the trees have borne this year.

Russell said the trees yielded a good crop in early June, and that during the drought they became denuded of leaves, appeared about the same as during hibernation. With the coming of the rains in early August, he said, the trees leaved out again and blossomed as in spring. The second crop of apples, he says, is larger than the first.

DOMINIONS RAISE TARIFF ISSUE AT IMPERIAL MEETING

Australian Says Principle of Preference Is Accepted—Canadian Asserts Question Cannot Be Shelved.

WORLD HIT BY ECONOMIC BLIZZARD

This Is Comment of Labor Minister Thomas on Depression — Analyzes Unemployment.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 8.—The issue of free trade today was placed squarely before the imperial conference
by the Prime Minister of Canada, who opened the session with a proposal of dominion preferences designed to protect British trade and that of his own people and was followed closely by Premier Scullin
of Australia, who declared the dominions had accepted to a large degree the principle of imperial preference.

Premier Scullin declared it was the duty of the conference to affirm the maintenance of that principle and the extension of its operation. Bennett had said the time had come for action on empire preference and there was neither possibility of avoiding it nor room for compromise.

"Economic Blizzard."
J. H. Thomas, Secretary for Dominions, declared the world "has struck an economic blizzard."

He reviewed Britain's "lost ground in the race for world trade"
and pledged Government aid in every possible way to increase trade throughout the empire to the mutual advantage of all dominions.
He did not by a specific plan before the conference.

Thomas declared the British empire as a whole had shared in the general world depression since 1912 and 1923 but "so far as the United Kingdom is concerned we have not only not held our own but we have very much lost."

He said Great Britain's world trade had been cut 20 per cent while the United States had made great strides in world trade "but there also is a considerable misunderstanding even here."

He said the United States had not supplanted Great Britain in the things Great Britain formerly supplied to the world. Two items are chiefly concerned, he said—motor cars and oil.

The speaker added that considerable misapprehension exists also regarding unemployment in Great Britain.

"I do not raise the subject now,"
he declared, "for the purpose of attenuating the awful tragedy behind the figures. The Ministry of Labor announced the total unemployed on Sept. 15 of 2,103,413, or 24.1 per cent less than the previous week."

"But I would like to see comparative figures supplied in the same way and arranged in the same way by every nation."

Jobless Personnel Changes.
Thomas said that an outsider reading the newspapers gets the impression that there is a "standing army of 2,150,000 permanently unemployed people in Britain."

The facts are, he went on, that 50 per cent of the unemployment—a million at this moment—"were either working six weeks ago or were working within six weeks."

SCIENTIST DOUBTS UTILITY OF GULF STREAM POWER

Wonders If Pipe Under Sea Can Withstand Pressure Changes and Raises Question of Cost.

By the Associated Press.
HAVANA, Oct. 8.—Some doubt as to the practicability of the experiments of Prof. Georges Claude, French scientist, who gave a demonstration of his ability to make variations of Gulf Stream temperatures produce electrical energy, was expressed today by Dr. Luciano de Golcocha, dean of the department of electrical engineering of the University of Havana.

Prof. Claude made forty 500-can-dipower bulbs glow for a half hour with energy produced from sea water temperature variations.
It was his first demonstration before other men of science and the Frenchman was hailed as the pioneer of a movement which might result in the revolution of industrial power methods.

Question of Cost Vital.
Dr. Golcocha said: "There seems to be some doubt as to the possibility of Prof. Claude's production of cheap power—the chief advantage sought by the scientist."

"Let us consider the matter on the basis of press reports which say that he has been able to light 40 bulbs of 500-candipower each,
which is equivalent to an energy of 20 to 30 horsepower. Is this the maximum capacity of Prof. Claude's plant?"

"If the 30 horsepower obtained is the maximum to be obtained by the Mantanzas plant, consider the cost of a plant powerful enough to supply a city requiring 40,000

horsepower for its electrical needs.
"One must consider the security of the installation and economy in the cost of production of power.
The enormous and costly pipe laid in the depths of the Caribbean Sea
may not have the solidity to resist periodical submarine currents."

"It points such as these can be resolved, there is no doubt that Prof. Claude's invention will be of immediate utility. If not, we have witnessed an admirable scientific experiment which must await, like others of its kind, an opportunity to put it to practical use."

Claude Using Laboratory Model.
Prof. Claude recently told the Associated Press that he could not,
with the plant he now has near Matanzas, produce a surplus of power. The energy used in starting the great pumps which draw sea water from a depth of 2000
feet is extraneous, and must be discounted, he said, from the total produced.

His plant is built on laboratory scale, he said, with the various working parts purposely out of proportion. He said he anticipated using more power than he could produce with this equipment, but that he expected to gather data that would be of value to him in building a much larger plant with a view to producing power on a commercial basis.

He said the conditions for the test had not been as favorable as he had anticipated, but he was optimistic over the results.

HOOVER BOARD GETS PROHIBITION REPORTS

Commission, on Reassembling, Has Charges of Lawlessness Against Officials.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Around
a table stacked with new reports of investigators, the Hoover Law Enforcement Commission reassembled today for conferences which may possibly result in an expression on prohibition.

The reports dealt with prohibition at length and after reading them, one member of the commission, Kenneth MacKintosh of Washington, gave notice he wanted
the commission to thrash out carefully going over the results of the summer's investigations.
Chairman George W. Wickersham held to his practice of secret commission sessions and to his policy of silence on matters of discussion
until the commission has acted.

Lawless Acts of Officials.
But one of the reports before Wickersham has drawn his ire.
This is the report on "Lawless Acts of Government Officials," and after reading it the commission chairman asserted: "A basic difficulty with much of the administration of justice lies in the use of political influence, not only in the selection of prosecutors, court officials and judges, but in the performance of their duties."

That was just one of several problems Wickersham took up with the commission as it sought to prepare a program for completing its task begun more than a year ago.
There are evidences that as a result of demands made in Congress
last session, that the commission confine its work to a study of prohibition, this issue is going to be a topic of major importance within the commission.

Demands Prohibition Position.
The view of MacKintosh,
who has been classified in his state
as a dry, that the commission should state its position directly on the prohibition controversy which is bobbing up so persistently in the political campaigns this year.

Wickersham's latest expression along that line was that a balanced inquiry into law enforcement
"would consider prohibition as one only of a number of elements to be studied."

Some of the subjects touched upon in the other reports before the commission today are: Juvenile delinquency, operation of Federal Courts, causes and treatment of crime, lawless acts of Government officials, cost of crime, criminal justice and the foreign-born, and police.

Prof. Chaffee of Harvard University and Walter Pollak and Carl Stern of the New York bar compiled data for the commission on the subject of "lawless acts of Government officials."

On this work Wickersham has commented "it is much evidence of lawless conduct among a certain class of law officers: 'third degree' as practiced by the police;
the conduct of the immigration authorities toward aliens, etc.; lawless acts of prosecuting attorneys;
illegal search and seizures, all furnish examples. This is perhaps the most pregnant source of the failures in our system of criminal justice; yet possibly it is also the most difficult to appraise and demonstrate."

New Type of Barges on the Mississippi River

FOR the first time in the history of river transportation a private company will operate 50 barges of a new type and construction, as a common carrier on the Mississippi River. The most interesting feature of the new fleet of barges is their construction. They have been designed by Carl J. Baer of St. Louis, with sharply pointed bow and stern, a departure from the "duckbill" bow, so that when they are massed in fleet formation, a tow of ten barges will actually push through the water as one gigantic barge, with streamlining bow and stern. The barges measure 100 feet in length and are 21 wide. The tow boat is equipped with a radio, from which the pilot receives instructions from the control office in Cincinnati.

100 CAPITALISTS TO PLAN WINTER IN FLORIDA TONIGHT

The Committee of One Hundred, of Miami Beach Colony, to Dine
in New York.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—A hundred captains of industry whose aggregate wealth could not be expressed in much less than 10 figures will dine together tonight and discuss informally the things they plan to do this winter when they go back to Florida for vacations.

They are the Committee of One Hundred, an ultra-exclusive social organization whose membership qualification is the ownership of a winter home in Miami Beach.
William K. Vanderbilt is a member of the society, and three of the Fisher Brothers of Detroit,
Frank A. Steierling of Akron, O.;
John Hertz of Chicago, Hunter L.
Gary of Kansas City, Robert H.
Haster, Colorado Springs; Robert Hoar, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Frank E. Gannett, New York publisher, belong. The committee is just a friendly organization, formed four years ago to bring together the Miami Beach householders for the sake of acquaintance and good times. Clayton Sedgewick Cooper is to preside at tonight's dinner in Hotel Biltmore.

FOR WIDER FREEDOM FOR AMERICAN SAMOA

Congressional Committee Recommends Putting It on Self-Governing Basis.

By the Associated Press.
PAGO PAGO, American Samoa, Oct. 8.—Congress will be asked to give Samoans an organic act providing for American citizenship and a large measure of self-government, the Samoan Congressional Committee announces today in a preliminary report read to an assembly of all chiefs of American Samoa.

The report was adopted unanimously. It recommended also the Pono (annual meeting of chiefs)
be recognized as a legislative body,
that Federal Judges from Honolulu sit here to hear appeals from the highest Samoan court and the President be free to appoint a civilian or officer of the Army or Navy

as Governor of Samoa.

The report definitely removed American Samoa from the class of a naval station, subject to absolute control of its commandant, placing it on a basis of a self-governing possession without, however, the powers of territory, for which the commission felt their people were unprepared.

PORTES GIL QUITS PARTY POST

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 8.—Emilio Portes Gil, former Mexican President, today resigned the presidency of the National Revolutionary Party, principal factor in Mexican politics. In a message to the executive board of his party he gave poor health as a reason and said he intended to return to his private practice of law in Tampico.

Portes Gil has been president of the party for several months, having resigned the Interior portfolio
in the Cabinet to accept the place.
Since he assumed the party leadership he has been the subject of repeated attacks by Luis Morones, head of the Mexican labor federation, who has accused him of Communist leaning and plotting against President Ortiz Rubio.

Due Partly to World

Dispatch and New York World."

and Post-Dispatch).

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The Labor party, at its conference at Llan-udno, Wales, yesterday overwhelmingly defeated by 1,800,000
proxy votes to 234,000 a resolution strongly criticising the Government headed by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald for its unemployment policy. The resolution was offered by delegates representing the independent Labor party,
the left wing of Labor in this country. The defeated resolution was in reality a demand for a vote of no confidence in MacDonald's cabinet.

The signal victory for MacDonald followed speeches by him and by James Maxton, left wing leader,
who, to the surprise of many present, declared: "We cannot throw out Prime Minister overboard. If the Prime Minister goes, the Government goes. And if the Government goes, we've got to start all over again as a mere propaganda organization to tell the people that Socialism is the only hope of the workers."

Leans Away From Tariffs.
Facing the annual conference of the party he heads, MacDonald in a moderate speech defended the record of his Government to date and urged upon his hearers the necessity for a policy of gradualism in the work of social reform. He criticized the left wing rebels sharply for their attacks on the Government both in and out of Parliament.

Tossing on the thorny subject of tariffs, MacDonald indicated that the present regime was not likely to adopt to any great extent, if at all, policies of protection and protection.

BERLIN RETIRES ITS MAYOR

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—The city of Berlin today retired Mayor Gustav Boes on a pension of about $7500 annually "for reasons of health."
The decision came after his administration had been subjected to an investigation as a consequence of charges of favoritism in letting of municipal contracts. The scandal arose while he was visiting in the United States about a year ago.

After avoided talking with Bruening about the possible participation of the National Socialists in the Government, but demanded that the Chancellor add to his announced program a series of measures including forced contributions by the banks to the Government and reduction of high salaries in the state service and in all forms of business enterprises. Bruening is reported to have considered Hitler's demands unacceptable and to place his hopes of a coalition in the Social Democrats and the Moderate parties. Some of the leaders of these groups are reported to be opposed to Foreign Minister Julius Curtius and Dr. Josef Wirth, Minister of Occupied Territories, remaining in the Bruening Cabinet.

Another indication of the political tendencies manifested before the opening of the new Reichstag is given today by the organ of the Socialist miners, Bergbau Industrie, which calls upon the Government to cease reparations payments. This is the first time any responsible organ connected with the Social Democrats has come out in protest against the Young plan and may have an important effect on Chancellor Bruening's efforts to build a majority in the new Reichstag. Present indications are that the support of the Social Democrats is essential to him on account of the exactions of the Right parties.

The German newspapers are filled with comments on Hitler's visit to Bruening. The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung declares that Hitler asked for his party two key ministries—the Ministry of the Interior and the portfolio of Chief of the Reichswehr.

The Kreuz Zeitung expresses the belief that Hitler left no doubt in the Chancellor's mind that the National Socialists are opposed to the Bruening program and will take the lead in expressing disapproba-tion of it in the new Reichstag.
Vossische Zeitung says that HIT-

UNDERTAKERS NOT REQUIRED TO AID ABLE BODIED MOURNERS

Court of Appeals Upholds Decision Taking Woman's Damage Suit From Jury.

The law does not impose a duty on undertakers to lend assistance to able-bodied mourners as they alight from funeral cars, it was held today by the Court of Appeals in a decision announced by Judge Becker.

The decision was in affirmation of a ruling by Circuit Judge Nolte of St. Louis County taking the damage suit of Mrs. A. E. Zink of Affton against Louis H. Bopp of Kirkwood from the jury.

Mrs. Zink sued for $7500, alleging two fingers of her right hand were injured by being caught in the door of a funeral automobile as she was leaving the car. The accident was in a cemetery at Belleville at the funeral of her husband's uncle Nov. 28, 1928.

Bopp, an undertaker, had charge of the funeral, but did not help Mrs. Zink out, leaving that duty to a palbearer, although he knew she was grief-stricken. It was alleged. The suit charged him with negligence in failing to open the door but the Appellate Court holds that if undertakers were required to perform such service they would have to hire an assistant for each car.

DOMINIONS RAISE TARIFF ISSUE AT IMPERIAL MEETING

mother country and the other dominions preference in the Canadian market in exchange for a preference based on the addition of a 10 per cent increase in prevailing tariffs or upon tariffs yet to be created.

The basis of the proposal is adequate protection to industries now existing or to be established.

Bennett declared the primary concern of Canada was to sell wheat profitably and Canada wanted the British market for wheat.

"For it we will be willing to pay by giving preference in the Canadian market for British goods," he said.

"We proposed the British empire should subscribe to the principle of empire preference."

"Delay is hazardous and further discussion of the principle is surely unnecessary," he continued.

"The time for action has come, there is no room for compromise, on the principle of empire preference. There is no possibility of avoiding the issue. This is a time for plain speaking. The day is at hand when the peoples of the empire must decide whether our welfare lies in closer economic union or whether it does not."

MACDONALD WINS FIGHT AGAINST REBELS IN PARTY

Imperial preferences. His speech was received with applause.

"I have no apologies to make—none whatever," MacDonald declared in discussing the Government's effort to deal with unemployment. He took a stand similar to that taken by President Hoover, contending that the present situation is partly due to world causes, with which no one country, unaided by international co-operation, can successfully cope.

Defending his Government's initiation of tariff truce negotiations at Geneva, MacDonald expressed his opinion that protection would not supply a way out of trade depression. "We cannot cure the ills of the new generation by going back to the quick remedies of two generations before," he said. "We signed the truce because we believe in its doctrine, and because we are asking other industrial nations of the world to come to an agreement about tariffs."

"If other nations think that by signing the truce they have got us bound and gagged they will discover they have made a big mistake. The truce has been signed only to allow negotiations to begin."

Deal With Dominions. The Premier further in his speech uttered a warning to the Dominion representatives at the Imperial Conference that Great Britain would make no concessions, in the form of imperial preferences, for which she did not get full equivalent value in return.

"The Government," he declared, "realized the necessity, if we start a new system of trade protection of any kind, of applying it so that this country is benefited by it and does not merely again quibblingly look after everybody's interest except its own."

This is plainly an intimation that Dominion Premiers cannot expect great concessions favoring importation of their food products and raw materials into Great Britain without equal facilities for the importation of British manufactured goods into their countries. The warning comes on the eve of an important session of the Imperial Conference on the economic relations between component parts of the British empire.

WORLD'S GREATEST SPA

FRENCH LICK SPRINGS—BROUGHT TO YOUR HOME IN A BOTTLE

DOWN in the Cumberland foothills in Indiana lies a pleasant valley that the Indians and the early settlers knew as the home of health.

Here natural health-giving waters bubble up from unknown depths in the midst of a pleasant glade. Here the pioneers came, and here they built the first French Lick Springs Hotel. A rude tavern it was in those early days, yet it was the rendezvous of thousands who came to drink and to carry away the natural mineral waters of the springs that surrounded it.

Today a huge 800-room fireproof hotel stands on the site of that first inn—mecca of health-seekers from every corner of the world—a concrete testimonial to the efficacy of Pluto Water. By train and motor car they come, jaded, tired, surfeited. Here in this pleasant valley they drink those same waters—they play—they leave with the glow of new-found health in their faces.

The fame of French Lick Springs has spread far and wide—it has become even better known than those ancient baths and spas of Europe... Wiesbaden, Aix, Carlsbad, Vichy.

Not everyone, however, can find the time nor perhaps the means to visit French Lick Springs and enjoy the health benefits that these marvelous natural mineral waters contain.

But thanks to a nation-wide distribution of bottled Pluto Water from French Lick Springs, you can enjoy these same health benefits without going farther than your own corner drugstore!

Pluto Water contains all the essential mineral properties of the famous natural springs at French Lick. It is in effect French Lick Springs in a bottle.

For more than fifty years doctors have prescribed

Pluto Water. Not only for constipation, but in the treatment of other, more serious, diseases that have their beginning in the absorption of poisonous waste matters from the intestines.

Both European and American doctors are outspoken in their praise of a saline water laxative, Arthur F. Hurtz, M. D., F. R. C. T., Guy's Hospital, London, says:

"A saline physic does not disturb the digestion like many vegetable purgatives such as cascara sagrada and castor oil." A prominent American doctor says, in effect, "A saline mineral water laxative, such as Pluto Water, produces thorough elimination, gently, but surely, freeing the system of indigestible waste products. In my practice I prescribe Pluto Water in preference to irritating types of laxatives."

Thousands of other doctors agree with these authorities about the superiority of a saline water laxative. They all say the same thing: "Salines produce prompt elimination without griping"; "Salines are harmless"; "Saline laxatives stimulate natural bowel action"; "Salines are the best laxatives that can be used."

What better proof that Pluto Water—America's saline water—is the laxative for you?

Go to your druggist today for your supply of Pluto Water!

Keep a bottle or two on the bathroom shelf for emergencies—make Pluto your constant traveling companion—take it each morning upon arising, diluted in plain water, for unpleasant breath, stomach disorders, irregularity. Two sizes—20c and 45c, at all drugstores and fountains.

NOTRE DAME DEDICATES $400,000 LAW BUILDING

Cardinal Hayes, Presiding, Says Man-Made Law Cannot Force the Will.
By the Associated Press.
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 8.—The $400,000 law building just completed on the campus of Notre Dame University was dedicated yesterday with ceremonies presided over by Cardinal Hayes of New York. Participating were Gilbert K. Chesterton, British essayist, who is prominent in Catholic lay circles; George J. McDonald, New York financier and Papal Magister; and Mr. J. S. Donohue of New York. In a brief talk the Cardinal declared that "man-made law cannot force the will, and where it tries to do it, you have jails and prisons filled." He added that "any law which is a violation of the natural law is an attack on the law of God."

Later, in an interview, the Cardinal declined to amplify this statement or to say whether he referred to any particular law now in force. Expressing the opinion that modern universities do not over-emphasize sports, Cardinal Hayes declared that "an interest in athletics helps students to achieve their ideals, although ideals, of course, are not always real since after all we must always encounter the human average."

UNDERTAKER LOSES LIFE TRYING TO RESCUE 3 TRAPPED MINERS

Ohioan, Thinking Air Was Clear, Removed Gas Mask; Firemen Fighting Blaze.
By the Associated Press.
MASSILLON, O., Oct. 8.—Rush D. Heller, 47 years old, Canton undertaker, who headed a rescue squad into the Dalton Coal Co. mine, two miles south of Dalton, in which three miners were trapped by a fire, died at noon today from fumes he inhaled while in the mine tunnel which was filled with smoke. Attempts to rescue the miners remained unsuccessful.
Rescuers, who accompanied Heller into the tunnel, said he removed his gas mask about 500 feet from the entrance thinking the air clear. In a few seconds he fell over unconscious. He was dragged to the surface, where efforts were made to resuscitate him.
Efforts of firemen from Dalton and Massillon to check the blaze within the mine were futile and at noon rescue crews had been unable to penetrate the tunnel.
Mine officials warned that there was danger of a cave-in. Dense black smoke was pouring from the mouth.

The court reversed the conviction of Floyd Thompson of Whitfield County, who was found guilty in Superior Court of a misdemeanor for the sale of such a beverage. The higher court held that there was no evidence to show the home brew was intoxicating and that the conviction was not supported by the evidence. Thompson was arrested in April, 1930, on a charge of selling the brew at 25 cents a bottle.

ADMITS KILLING TWO KANSAS CITY GUNMEN

Erl Varble, Gambler, Held for Another Shooting, Named by Woman.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 8.—Police announced that Erl Varble, confidence man and gambler, has confessed that he killed Jess Trowbridge and Orlan I. Jeffries in a street fight here early Sunday. The victims, officers said, were gangsters.

Varble's confession was recorded a few hours after Lillian Rice, 21 years old, Varble's companion on a joyride, appeared at police headquarters and accused him in the double shooting.

Meanwhile, Floyd E. Thompson, the shooting of whom Varble was arraigned Monday, is in a serious condition.

The young woman's statement to police referred to Varble as "a former boy friend" and to Thompson as "my boy friend."

Both Were Pretty Drunk. Miss Rice said Varble took her from her apartment, where she had gone with Thompson. Both Thompson and she, the young woman was quoted, "were pretty drunk and went to sleep." She awakened to find Thompson sitting in a chair, and Varble nearby. He was "standing in the doorway with his right hand on a gun which apparently was resting on his hip."

Near Twelfth street and the Paseo, Miss Rice's statement continued, Varble had a conversation with two men in couple. Their car drove Varble's into the curb. "I saw Varble put the barrel of a gun over his left arm and shoot," she added. "I do not remember just how many shots he fired, but it was more than once."

Says He Shot No Chances. "I did it," Varble was quoted by B. H. Thurman, Chief of Detectives, as saying: "You had me right all the way through. I don't know why I did it except that I took no chance when their car crowded me to the curb. I was not drunk."

Miss Rice in her statement said that after Thompson was shot, she left the apartment with Varble, driving to the south edge of the city where they drank beer and whiskey. Returning to the city, she said, they drove about the vicinity of Twelfth and the Paseo, where they started to pass a motor car containing two men. One of the

SISTER ACCUSES BROTHER OF BEWITCHING CROPS

Wisconsin Man Charged With Sorcery in Hearing Before State Medical Examiners.

By the Associated Press.

JANESVILLE, Wis., Oct. 8.—The State Board of Medical Examiners yesterday listened to charges of sorcery against Henry Dorn, 64-year-old farmer. His sister, Mrs. Herman Frey, her family and neighbors whom Dorn blamed for the tales of sorcery and magic, huddled on a single bench in the little courtroom.

These charges were that Dorn caused cows to cease to give milk, applied to rot on trees, hens to cease laying eggs and sickness to visit the home of his sister and had laid a curse on the crops.

Harry Fox, Assistant District Attorney, and Walter A. Drews, of the State Board of Medical Examiners, while placing no credence in the charges continued the hearing because they were curious to learn the part Herman C. Englehardt, a Rockford (Ill.) epistolist, played. They sought to determine whether Englehardt practiced medicine without a license. Dorn said Englehardt "treated" him several times for an ailment. Once there was a farm house snake, and Dorn said the epistolist accused him of "reading black books and practicing evil ways."

$4,400,000 DETROIT BUILDING PROGRAM TO AID JOBLESS

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 8.—Public construction to cost $4,400,000 was authorized yesterday by the City Council as a step toward providing employment for the jobless this winter.

Bids will be received next week on construction of 18 new schools and additions to existing buildings, estimated to cost $4,000,000. The contract for building work at the new House of Correction was awarded on a bid of $386,090. Work will start at once.

Mayor Frank Murphy said he had abandoned his plans for municipal lodging houses for unemployed persons. He explained that proprietors of private lodging houses had brought down their prices to within the reach of most indigent persons. His announcement followed the City Council's action authorizing the expenditure of $35,000 for unemployment relief.

Men with an oath asked where they were going. "We are going down the street, that's where," she quoted Varble as saying. Then Miss Rice said, as one of the men in the motor car stooped as if to pick something up from the floor, Varble ran into the curb and began shooting.

UNIVERSITY CAR LINE NORMAL

Service Restored After Trestle Is Strengthened.

Normal service on the University street car line was restored today after cars had been detained for 24 hours over DeBaltiviere avenue, Delmar boulevard and Skinker road because of a washout under the trestle over the River des Peres just west of DeBaltiviere.

Use of the bridge was stopped early yesterday after the collapse of a temporary dam used by a contractor engaged in construction of the River des Peres sewer. Public Service Co. officers declared the trestle unsafe, but after the water subsided and debris had been cleared away, it was found that the supports could be reinforced.

GETS 6 MONTHS FOR THEFT OF U. S. MACHINE GUN

Archie Pennwell, 19 years old, 3828 North Wharf street, was sentenced yesterday to six months in jail and paroled by Federal Judge Davis when he pleaded guilty to assisting in the theft of a machine gun from the Naval Reserve Armory last May, which he said he and his two associates intended to sell to gangsters.

Leniency was shown Pennwell because he sided the Government in recovering the stolen gun, valued at $250, after his brother had given official information which resulted in the arrest of the three youths who stole it. One of Pennwell's companions has been sentenced to the penitentiary and the other is a fugitive.

HOLDS UP JEWELRY STORE FOR 63 RINGS

Robber Locks Seven Persons in Rear Room—Also Gets $46.

Seven persons were locked in a rear room yesterday afternoon by an armed man who took $23 and 63 rings from the Stone Bros. Jewelry Co., 2647 Cherokee street, and robbed customers of $23 additional.

Asking to look at a ring, the robber held up Henry Covin, a salesman, and marched him, a Miss Ruth Shearer, bookkeeper, Walter Buddeneyer, watchmaker,
and a woman named White, porter,
to the rear of the store. When Miss Dorothy McDaniel, 3220 Ohio avenue, came in she was robbed of $10 and locked with the others.

The robber was about to leave when Mrs. Mathilda Sladek, and her son, Harry Sladek, both of 3345 Illinois avenue, entered the store. The man was robbed of $13 and he and his mother forced to join the other prisoners.

An estimate of the value of the rings has not been made.
A purse containing $32 was wrested from Mrs. Eugenia Gott-schlich by a man who accosted her as she put her automobile in the garage in the rear of her home at 1126A Louisville avenue. Mrs.
Gottschlich fought the robber, but was overpowered. Police found the empty purse on an adjoining lot.

Jacob Blustein, proprietor of a dry goods store at 4016 De Tonty street, reported the store had been entered by burglars last night and that stock valued at $250 was stolen.

The office of a miniature golf course at 2701 North Grand boulevard was entered by burglars last night and $10 stolen.

Mrs. Charlotte Boyle, 4921 Page boulevard, told police a man nabbed her purse containing $2.85 last night as she was about to enter her home, and fled on foot.

Two East St. Louis Filling Stations
Held Up During Night.
Arthur Maull, attendant at a filling station at Tenth and Bond avenue, East St. Louis, was held up shortly after midnight last night by two men who took $65
from the cash register, and $25
from Kenneth Maxwell, 812 Converse avenue, a customer.

A similar holdup occurred at a filling station at Tenth street and St. Louis avenue, East St. Louis.
G. P. Luther, attendant, and two customers were locked in the washroom. The robbers took $30
from the cash register and $14
from the two customers.

REMNANTS OF HICKMAN, ILL., SOLD ON BLOCK FOR $1039

Store and Postoffice of Once Thriving Grain-Shipping Point Go for $140.

By the Associated Press.
WATSEKA, Ill., Oct. 8.—The end of a long-faltering dream of agricultural empire was written yesterday when an auctioneer sold the remnants of the town of Hickman, Southeastern Iroquois County, for $1039.

Once the largest grain-shipping point in Central Illinois' eastern range of counties, Hickman had failed to stand the strain of competition among its bustling neighbors and for 15 years or more had slowly dwindled away. The railroad discontinued its station there,
the grain elevator was destroyed by fire, the hard roads came and the farmers went elsewhere to trade.

So yesterday an auctioneer mounted the block and strove against a gray drizzle to whip up interest among the 150 men who had gathered. He got $707 for a house and four acres of land, $75 for another acre, $140 for the store and postoffice, $85 for two small buildings and $32 for what remains, principally the scales and office shack of the grain elevator.
The land was bought by owners of adjoining farms. The buildings went to wrecking firms. The antique grill-work of the postoffice was resold immediately to C. B.
Baier of Ciesna Park for $1.

WAGNER ATTACKS CENSUS FIGURES ON UNEMPLOYMENT

New York Senator Says He Thinks Total Is Between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The census figures on unemployment were challenged yesterday by Senator Wagner, Democrat, New York, as inaccurate and far below the number actually unemployed.

The New York Senator, who sponsored legislation to provide more accurate accounting of unemployment, asserted he thought the actual number of unemployed
in the nation was between 4,000,- 000 and 5,000,000, whereas preliminary statistics from the Census Bureau indicated about 2,500,000.

Wagner contended that some census enumerators, particularly in New York, had failed to inquire about unemployment in making their surveys. He argued that had Congress kept his amendment to the census bill, requiring census enumerators to be employed under the civil service, more accurate census would have been obtained.

Toss-Toss-Toss All Night Long!

Sleepless Nights a Penalty of Acidity
When you go to bed at night tired and exhausted and still can't sleep and you toss fitfully on your bed all night long, trying first one position and then another, it's almost a sure sign that you are "acid." Acidity, the curse of our modern existence,
not only causes acid-indigestion with sourness, burning and gassy fullness,
but it plays havoc with our nervous systems, making us jumpy, fidgety and so restless at night that we can't sleep, even though we be dog tired.
Acidity may be due to a number of things, but usually unnatural eating habits, irregular hours, overwork and excessive smoking are factors. Any person with any symptoms of acidity should know about a remarkable new corrective of acidity that has been developed by a famous 100-year-old pharmaceutical house in Germany.
This new acid corrective comes in the form of small, white tablets, called Magnesia Oxidals, which do not have to be chewed, but may be swallowed whole. Magnesia Oxidals, upon contact with the acid in the stomach, generate nascent, or active oxygen.

Now, as any doctor will tell you, active oxygen, when created within the digestive tract does just the things required for acidity.
It stimulates the secretion of the alkaline mucus. It checks putrefac-tion and fermentation in the intestines. It stimulates the activities of the intestinal walls and aids the natural movement of the bowels. All three effects are necessary to the true relief of acidity, and Magnesia Oxidals supply them in a perfectly natural manner.

Make This Acidity Test

To ascertain just how "acid" you are, make this test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxidals from Walgreen's Drug Stores or any other good druggist. Take two after each meal and see how much better you feel—how much more soundly you sleep and how much more energy
you have. If, after taking contents of one bottle, you don't get more than amazing results, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund the purchase price promptly and in full.

BROKER FIRM
IN NEW YORK
FAILS; TO BE LIQUIDATED

Prince & Whitely, Founded in 1878, Suspended by Exchange—Attorneys Expect There Will Be No Loss to Creditors.

SEVERE REACTION IN STOCK MARKET

Largest Turnover of Shares Since June With Leaders Dipping $4 to $10—Descent, However, Is Orderly.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The Wall street brokerage firm of Prince & Whitely, a member of the New York Stock Exchange for nearly half a century, with offices or correspondents in many cities of the United States and Europe, was suspended from the Stock Exchange on insolvency today.

While this was the largest financial house to fail as a result of the collapse of the stock market last autumn, the firm hoped its difficulties were temporary. Its attorneys announced there probably would be no loss to creditors and that a reorganization was being arranged.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed later in the U. S. District Court against the brokerage firm.

Sales Largest Since June.
The suspension caused liquidation of the stock market that swelled to turnover to more than 5,000,000 shares, the largest since June. Common shares lost $4 to $10 net and closed virtually at the bottom. Enormous selling swept away the gains of last November in a series of issues. The decline, however, was orderly and amicable conditions or demoralization were not to be seen even approached. Prices rallied somewhat from the first outbreak of liquidation early in the afternoon but resumed their downward course in the late trading.

U. S. Steel's low was $148 and it lost at $148.37 for a loss of $1.75. Westinghouse Electric's net broke was $7.50, American Telephone's $4 and North American's $5. Other net declines were: American Water Works $8.50, Consolidated Gas of New York $4.27, General Electric $3.62, Eastman Kodak $7.50, Bethlehem Steel $4.75, Auburn Auto $8.75 and J. I. Case $5.50.

Although the decline gained momentum from the announcement of the suspension about 12:30 o'clock, the constructive forces had been waging a losing battle since around 11 this morning. At that time the bulls and the bears waged a spectacular battle over U. S. Steel, which broke at $150. Its 1829 low, trembled a few minutes at that figure as the opposing factions rallied their forces and then broke to $148.62, despite the execution of large supporting orders hastily thrown into the market to prevent such a dip. Buying of the shares was heavy at the lower quotations and it pushed back across $150, only to give way again.

The Prince & Whitely firm was established in 1878. In addition to its membership on the New York Stock Exchange, it held memberships on the Chicago and Cleveland stock exchanges, the Chicago Board of Trade and the New York Curb.

The firm formed an investment trust called the Prince & Whitely Trading Corporation a year ago. Its stock was sold throughout the country and its midyear report showed it was one of the few recently formed investment trusts to have come through the stock market crash of last autumn with increased assets.

J. Mitchell Hoyt, senior partner in the firm, is a director and a member of the Executive Committee of National Dairy Products Corporation and of the Kellogg Corporation. In addition, he is a director of Hahn Department Store, Inc.; L. A. Young Spring Co. and Cross & Blackwell, Ltd.

Other partners in the suspended firm are G. Lisle Forman, Otto Antonson, Felix T. Hughes, James H. Stark, Laurence Sanford Critchell, Gen. B. Van Sant, Morrison B. Orr and Gerald W. Hoyt. Forman and Orr were members of the Stock Exchange.

Stock of Prince & Whitely Trading Corporation traded on the New York exchange today at $7.62 and immediately after the announcement dropped to 50 cents. The
